NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Another tragedy of Broadway, the street of bright lights and broken hearts, was enacted today when a beautiful, dark-haired girl of 22, a model, wrote a pathetic note to "darling mother" and then jumped from the eighth floor of the Knickerbocker Hotel.
She was instantly killed.

Her body, clad only in a silk stepin and a brassiere, was found on the roof of a one-story extension in the rear of the hotel. She had registered last night as "M. E. Green, Passaic, N. J." But investigation indicated that this is not her name. The police believe she is Mildred Nash of Milford, Mass.

Note to Mother
"Darling mother: Please forgive me," said a note found on her dresser.
"You know I do not love Buddie, and the New York life is driving me mad."
The girl's note to her mother also said:

"Please do me a favor and have Mac call William King in West 70 street, New York City. If Mac cannot, then get Dr. — or Dr. — (neither name could be deciphered), on the telephone.

"Joe is a bootlegger and they know him here.

"Mother, please forgive me, but also please forgive Bill King." The note was unsigned.

Detectives also found in the room
a partly empty whisky bottle.

King was located in an apartment

Fall-Sinclair Trial Recesses Until Monday

Case Of Prosecution Against Prominent Defendants Is Near Close

OUTLINE HIGH SPOTS DURING PAST WEEK

Defense Will Likely Get Started Monday Or Tuesday, Is Indication

By GEORGE E. DURNO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial was rested over the week-end today with the prosecution's case nearly completed.
The high lights of the week in the government's effort to prove that former secretary of Interior, Albert B.
Fall, and Harry F. Sinclair, New York oil magnate, fraudulently negotiated a lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in consideration of which Fall received $230,500, were summed up by those following the case as follows:—

Outline High Spots

1.—The fusil of M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of Fall, to testify where he got $230,500 in Liberty Bonds he deposited to Fall's credit, on the ground revelation thereof "might tend to in-criminate" him.

2.—Definite establishment, through serial numbers, that these bonds had come from the Continental Trading Company of Canada.

3.—That Sinclair was actively interested in, and guaranteed in writing, the oil deal for which the Continental Company was created, which embraced the purchase of 33,333,333 barrels of oil from the late Col. A. E.
Humphreys, of Texas, at $1.50 a barrel and the immediate re-sale of the oil to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company at $1.75.

4.—That all of the profits the Continental thus made, $3,080,000, were converted into Liberty Bonds and that those ultimately reaching Fall were included in the lot.

5.—Testimony of half a dozen oil

FOURTEEN IN CREW OF BOAT SENT DOWN

Dense Fog And Darkness
Blamed For Crash; Search

(International News Service)

ABOARD S. S. PRESIDENTE
WILSON (via radio to Boston)
Oct. 29.—Two Gloucester Fishermen lost their lives, nine were reported missing, and three others were saved as the result of a collision in a dense fog off Cape Cod early today between the steamship Presidente Wilson and the Gloucester fishing schooner Avalon.

Those picked up by the lifeboats
from this steamship were Levin Fleet, Frank Hemen, and Nicholas Walsh.
Two bodies were found floating near the scene of the wreck.

There were fourteen men aboard the mackerel fishing boat.

The Presidente Wilson stood by looking for survivors or bodies but nine were not found. Possibly they escaped in dories.

Four coast guard cutters have come up and begun the work of looking for floating bodies or survivors.

The Presidente Wilson which was not damaged, rammed the fisherman amidships at 4:15 a. m.

Fog Hampers Rescue Darkness and fog hampered the work of rescue.

The captain of the Presidente Wilson estimated that five minutes after the crash of timbers the Avalon foundered.

Those aboard the steamship were first aware of the presence of the mackerel fisherman when the lights of the latter suddenly loomed ahead out of the darkness, and the heavy fog early morning. The watch on the liner discovered the schooner dead ahead and quickly signaled for the engine of the Presidente Wilson to be reversed. The bells, however, had hardly sounded when the big ship tore into the side of the smaller one.

Cries of those aboard the schooner could be heard above the din as the liner now on reverse speed began to back away from the schooner.

SOUTH SIDE LAD STRUCK BY TRUCK

Accident toll in the city last night included two boys, who sustained broken legs. One of the boys is in a very serious condition at the Shenango Valley hospital.

Paul Freeman, 136 Wallace avenue, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, severe lacerations of the left leg and other injuries early last evening on Highland avenue, between Wallace and Boyles avenues, when struck by the automobile of William Dunlap, Jr., of 121 Sheridan avenue.

Mr. Dunlap was enroute south on Highland avenue between Wallace and Boyles avenues about 5:50 p. m., according to the statement made to the police. Traffic was heavy and he was driving between 18 and 20 miles an hour.

The boy was riding a bicycle and turning around in the middle of the street. The light was such that Mr.
Dunlap did not see the boy until he was directly in front of his machine and it was too late to prevent the accident.

Reed and Officer Thomas Jones and taken to the Shenango Valley hospital in the car of Thomas Thornton.
Not only did he suffer severe injuries but the shock sustained is having a severe effect on him. His condition was reported by the hospital today as being serious.

Gabriele Petrucci, 1128 Scioto street, reported Friday that he was driving a Shenango plant truck west on Long avenue between Moravia and Scioto streets, when a boy got out of a car parked on the right hand side of the street and ran directly in front of the truck. He was knocked to the street. His father would not permit Petrucci to have him removed to the hospital.

Later it was found that the boy was in the New Castle hospital, where he had been taken by the family. It was then that his name was learned, he being John Bodner, aged 8, of Moravia street extension. At the hospital it was found that his left leg had been broken.

He was born in Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., the son of Henry and Susan Speer. He had resided in Mercer county for about 13 years. He had previously lived for a time in Somerset county.

He attended the Methodist Episcopal church. He leaves his wife, Mrs.
Mary Speer, and three children, Leola, Ruby and James all at home, also the following brothers and sisters, Theodore Speer, Mercer county, William Speer, Mercer county, Harry Speer, Norfolk, Va., Ellen Speer, Mercer county and Mrs. James Tishue, Lig-ioner, Pa.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. Rich of the New Wilmington M. E. church, at the late residence. Interment will be made in Hosland cemetery.

Boyles Ave. Now Ready For Traffic

Boyles avenue, which was recently paved, has been thrown open for traffic. Residents along the street are getting drives put in. These are uniform and give the street a very good appearance.

Conneaut Woman Killed In Auto Crash Near Erie

Three Others Injured As Result Of Crash, State Police Investigate

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 29.—State highway police today investigated an accident on Girard Hill, 16 miles from here, in which Mrs. Nellie Dilley, 42, of Conneaut, O., was killed and three other persons were injured late last night.

Mrs. Dilley was the wife of the Rev.
H. A. Dilley of Conneaut and they were accompanied on their fatal trip from Conneaut to Erie by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kramer, also of Conneaut.

It was the third fatal accident in and near Erie within 24 hours, trucks having crushed out the lives of two children late Thursday and early Friday.

Mummers' Parade Will Be Feature Of Hallowe'en

Plans Are Complete For Observance In City On Monday Night

PARADE TO MOVE PROMPTLY AT 8 P. M.

Many Prizes Are To Be Awarded To Masquerad-
ers In Line

New Castle is going to make merry on Monday night, Oct. 31. The annual Hallowe'en celebration takes place in the downtown section, when a mammoth mummers' parade will be held, with prizes to the winners, followed by a street dance on South Jefferson street. The celebration is in charge of Henry M. Goldberg as general chairman, with Edward Pritchard and William D. Williams as chairman of the street dance.

The parade will form on South Jefferson street between Washington and Lawrence streets, at 7:30. Marshal Pritchard and his aides will be present to line up the mummers, and at eight o'clock the line will move out.
The line of march will be up Washington street to the East Side station, loop around the P. & L. E. driveway, back onto Washington street and thence to the Public Square, where the parade will disband.

Prize Judges In Stand
As the parade marches by the judges' stand tickets will be given to possible prize-winners and later these tickets holders will be judged for the final award.

In order to get the line-up of the parade arranged Marshal Pritchard has called a meeting of the following aides tonight at eight o'clock in the Legion Home: Earl Toler, De Graff Robinson, Bernard Hook, Samuel Rohrer, John Jones, John A. Mac-Neill, Edward Hoyer, David Ballard, Creighton Logan.

The dance committee was announced today and consists of W. D.
Williams Jr., Joseph Alexander, Fred
Davis, James J. Dunn and Thomas McCoy.

Two bands will be in the parade,
the Senior High School band and the Croton band. Following the parade the Senior High School band will play for the dance which will be held on the street.

Quotarians Gather From Many Cities For Meeting Here

Inter-Cities Meeting To Take Place This Evening At The Castleton

International Officers Are To Take Part In Program
Tonight

Women of the New Castle Quota club will be hostesses to several hundred Quotarian delegates here tonight, when an Inter-Cities meeting of Quota will be held at The Castleton. Sixty clubs from this part of the country will be represented and among the delegates will be Dr.
Mabel Palmer of Davenport,
Ia., international president.

Some of the delegates arrived on Friday afternoon in time to attend the annual doll show of the New Castle Quota club which was presented in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

This evening a banquet will be held in The Castleton at which Dr.
Palmer will be the main speaker.

Sunday afternoon the delegates will attend the dedication of Crawford Oak Ridge, the dedicatory address of which will be delivered by Rietta M.
Emerson of Wilmington, Del. Music will be in charge of Richard E. Johns chorister of the First Christian church.

Notable Occasion.

Mrs. Lola McCormick president of the New Castle Quota club has devoted much time an energy to the arranging of the inter-cities meeting and the success of it reflects her work and that of her committees.

Saturday and Sunday will be epochal days not only in the life of the New Castle Quota club but of the International Quota for here will be dedicated a home for working girls which has attracted the attention of every club in Quota International.

A special invitation has been in-sued to the Quotarians to attend divine services in the First Christian church on Sunday morning.

The committee in charge of the party and dinner tonight in The Castleton is Celia Wolford, Mary Offerding, Olive Kammerer, Mildred Hazen, Lillian Boyd, Ella Bratschke, Inez Hope and Gertrude Kinter.

New Wilmington Aids Chest Fund

To Contribute $500 To New Castle Fund This Year,
It Is Announced

Announcement is made today by Howell T. Getty of New Wilmington, that $500 will be donated to the New Castle Community Chest fund by the New Wilmington Community Chest.

After a conference of the New Wilmington Chest leaders this action was determined upon Mr. Getty announces.

New Wilmington is raising a Community Chest fund for the village and from this amount the sum of $500 will be taken to aid the New Castle Chest fund this year.

The matter of county aid to the New Castle fund was presented in New Wilmington during the week by local fund workers and the same response was the result.

The action of New Wilmington is deeply appreciated by the New Castle Chest fund workers. Other communities throughout the county realizing that the institutions maintained in New Castle are often of very great service to them in times of emergency are also aiding the chest fund this year.

Program of the dedication follows:
Opening prayer—Dr. H. C. Weaver.
Song—Mixed chorus, led by R. E.
Johns.

Address, "Quota Girls"—Dr. Mabel Palmer, president of Quota International.

Song—Mixed chorus.
Dedication by members of the New Castle Quota club.

Dedicatory address—Rietta M. Emerson.
Closing prayer—Rev. W. E. Mc-Clure.

Eleventh Hour Drive Under Way For Chest Fund

D. S. Pyle To Preside At Meeting At The Castleton
On Monday

TEAM WORKERS OUT FOR VICTORY

Whirlwind Campaign Is Being Conducted To Boost Fund Over Goal

Monday, Oct. 31, is going to be Victory Day in the Community Chest drive. This is the feeling of every worker in the Chest today, and spurred on by the wreath of victory which appears to be just in reach, everybody is renewing their efforts today to put this drive over.

The chairman of the Monday meeting will be David S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango Works, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, and the president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce. It would be a pretty courtesy to the chairman of the final day of the drive to engulf him with so many subscriptions that the goal of $100, 000 would be reached and passed, and a courtesy that would be much in keeping.

Mr. Pyle is a New Castle man by birth, education and residence, and has meant much to this industrial city in the past 20 years. New Castle is essentially an industrial city and it is most fitting that this leader of industry here should be asked to accept the chairmanship on the final day of the drive.

Victory Near Victory seems within the grasp of the workers today. If they will just put on that added ounce of energy which is needed. Only about $17,000 is needed to put over the drive, and the men and women who have so faithfully done the work thus far are determined to get the balance of the needed amount.

The speakers' table will see all of the former day chairmen on Monday and in addition a number of guests will be invited to sit at the table. In Punchinello Is Presented

Two Performances Of Annual Quota Club Doll Show

MANY TAKE PART IN PRESENTATIONS

With a cast of perhaps 150, "Punchinello" the Quota Club Doll show of 1928 was presented in the Scottish Rite Cathedral last night. Competition in other lines of entertainment may have been the reason for the size of the crowd, or perhaps the fact that there has been such a number of things here in the past few weeks.

The theme of "Punchinello" is built around two naughty little girls who disobey their mother and wishing to be transported to Doll Land are forthwith met by a fairy who waits there. The show is their experience in Doll Land.

Costuming Good. Some pretty effects were seen in the costuming and staging and these features with the work of several very young little girls who danced and sang were the redeeming features of the show. The chorus was unfortunately for the leads and the members of the chorus were young men and women whose ability has been demonstrated on other occasions.

The proceeds of the show are to accrue to the benefit of the Crawford Oak Ridge, the project upon which the members of the New Castle Quota Club have lavished much time and attention. This will be dedicated formally on Sunday afternoon.

To attempt to pick out any individuals in the cast of "Punchinello" would be to infer that some others of those appearing in specialty numbers did not rate the same attention. Hence it seems better to refrain from any comment upon the work of any one person.

"Punchinello" is to play a matinee engagement this afternoon in the Cathedral and this evening the Quotarians will meet in The Castleton and an inter-city club meet will be held. The program of "Punchinello" and the cast follows:

ELEVENTH HOUR DRIVE UNDER WAY FOR CHEST FUND

the meantime every worker is urged to keep going over the week-end and wind up on Monday this Community Chest drive.

In all the theaters of New Castle this evening speakers will exhort the audiences to give to the Community Chest, while in the lobbies, high school girls will be on hand with subscription blanks, so that theater patrons can leave their subscriptions at the door.

"It is too late now—we cannot fall down—we have gone too far!" is the sentiment expressed by the leading manufacturers of New Castle, who met this morning in the Chamber of Commerce offices with Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson to go over the lists of salaried men in their plants to see if they could not get their men to subscribe to the fund into which, in the last few days, the heart of New Castle has gone.

"We are just now on the verge of success and in meeting with the manufacturers in this way we expect to have every office subscribe 100 per cent to the cause," said Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who has taken Herbert Peairs' place as director of the drive for the day.

operators that they unsuccessfully sought information from Fall about the possibility of leasing Teapot Dome, their efforts ranging from a month before Sinclair got the lease to three days after it actually had been signed.

6.—The appearance of two members of congress who had sought information about the possibility of leasing Teapot Dome at the very time Fall and Sinclair were concluding the lease, and their testimony they had been given a press release Fall had issued the day before the lease was signed to the effect no definite policy had been concluded concerning Teapot Dome.

7.—The testimony of former assistant secretary of the navy, Theodore Roosevelt, who had charge of the navy's fuel oil storage program, that he had known nothing of the lease until after it was signed, although the terms of the contract called for the carrying out of the storage program.

8.—Evidence that Fall had never submitted the lease to the solicitor of his own department or the attorney general despite the fact that a standard oil attorney had expressed doubt as to the legality of a lease which called for exchange of crude oil for fuel oil.

9.—That Fall never advertised Teapot Dome for lease, nor called for competitive bids as is usually done.

10.—The appearance of an attorney for H. M. Blackmer, oil man prominently identified with the Continental deal, with a statement that Blackmer would refuse to answer the government's subpoena on the ground he was in Paris when served and out of the court's jurisdiction, thus depriving the government of a key witness.

Owen J. Roberts federal counsel, now has only to complete the presentation of the Continental deal and bring in evidence concerning a final $25,000 Sinclair gave Fall after the latter was out of office. He will then rest and the defense will begin.

On Friendship Cruise

Sailing a little 60-foot schooner, Captain Karl Kircheis, daring German raider of World War fame who broke through British blockade of North Sea in 1916, arrives in New York on cruise of tour.

Who am I? What is my profession? In what country was I born? With what great musical organization have I been connected?

Today marks the anniversary, in 1682, when the founder of the Pennsylvania colony first reached Upland.

Dans Place	100
Hy-Grade Store	25
J. G. McCrory Co.	40
Millman Music Co.	10
National Market	50
Isaly Dairy Products Co.	100
Victor Olson Co.	40
V. R. Kinney Co.	40
Donahoe	50
Union Stores	25
May Lee Candy Shops	25

The following telegrams were sent to all chain store organizations here: First telegram sent to the firm as listed below:

October 25, 1927.
"New Castle community chest campaign now under way. Committee hopes for 100 per cent response from all retail firms local and foreign. Richman Brothers, Cleveland, wired $175 for firm which is in addition to local manager's subscription. We are $17,000 ahead of same date last year because everybody doing dead level best to put campaign over. Hope for good report Friday. Will you kindly wire confirmation subscription above amount to community chest headquarters, charges collect?"

MRS. C. H. JOHNSON, General Chairman.
WILLIAM F. MOODY, President Community Chest.
DAVID S. PYLE, President Chamber of Commerce.

Second telegram sent to same firms: October 27, 1927.
"Reference our files discloses we have no response to our telegram October 25 regarding contribution to community chest our last meeting. We are anxious to report your firm as contributing. Will you wire your local manager authority to make pledge? Wire us confirmation, our expense. Thank you."

New Castle Community Chest.
Third telegram to those firms who did not respond to first and second telegrams: October 28, 1927.

"Over 300 interested New Castle citizens working hard for success of chest campaign, surprised your firm subscription not reported at Friday's report meeting. Surely you do not intend to ignore our telegram. Final report meeting Monday noon. Urge your immediate response yes or no. Wire your local manager authority to sign pledge. Desire to publish names of all subscribers Monday noon."

In West Seventieth street. He implored that his name be not mentioned in connection with the tragedy.

"I wouldn't say a thing against the girl's character," he said. "I knew her by another name. Green is not her name."

Later the maid at King's apartment said he had left on a hunting trip. The girl had dark bobbed hair and dark eyes. She registered at the hotel about eight o'clock last night. She went to her room at once and nothing more was heard from her by the management until this morning, when she called the hotel telephone operator and said:

"I am going to commit suicide. Good-bye."

A house detective and a clerk immediately rushed to the room, but while they were on the way other guests heard the crash of the girl's body on the roof below.

Mr. McAdoo will be immortal, anyway, as the one Democrat who declined to run.

Harrisburg Mail Clerk Is Held In Theft Of $8,000

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Federal officers today checked the operations of Frank S. Searle, 42, of Harrisburg, a mail clerk, wherein it is alleged Searle stole and cashed government pension checks valued at $8,000.

Searle is being held in default of $2,500 bail while postoffice inspectors from Washington, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg trace a trail of alleged stolen checks. The officials charged Searle cashed checks in thirty-six banks in six different cities, including Akron, O.; Youngstown, Wiles-Barre, Scranton, Altoona and Juniata.

In all, 135 pension checks were stolen, the first in May 1926. The officials said the suspect made small deposits in the banks before cashing three checks to alay suspicion. Searle was held for the December term of federal court.

To Rope Streets For Hallowe'eners

The police authorities are planning to do everything possible to have the masqueraders enjoy themselves on Monday evening.

On South Jefferson street between Washington and South streets, where the street dancing will be held, the police will place ropes at the outer edge of the sidewalk. The carway is for the convenience of the dancers and those not in costume will not be permitted inside and the spectators are asked to stay on the sidewalk.

It is also planned to rope off Washington street from the public square to East street and the spectators are again asked to remain back of the rope and on the sidewalk. In order that it may be possible for the masqueraders to have the entire street for parading purposes.

Those violating these regulations may find themselves in trouble with the police.

MISS DAILE SMITH WEDS HAROLD PHELPS

A quiet ceremony was solemnized today at high noon in the home of Rev. P. A. Bright of Sharon, Pa., pastor of the Sharon Christian church, when Miss Daile Smith, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Smith, Maryland avenue, became the bride of Harold R. Phelps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phelps of East New Castle.

Due to the recent death of the bride's father, there were no guests at the ceremony. Rev. Bright married the bride's parents thirty two years ago.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school class of '24, and attended Slippery Rock State Normal school.

Mr. Phelps is a graduate of the local high school class of '21 and of Bethany College class of '27 where he was a member of the Moo Moo's and Phi Kappa Delta fraternities, and president of the latter during his senior year. He is now teaching at the Plaingrove high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps will reside with the bride's mother 925 Maryland avenue.

Kid Party.

James H. Lewis, Edison avenue, entertained a number of guests at a Halloween kid party Friday evening. The third floor of the home was attractively decorated with autumn leaves, lanterns and pumpkins. Various games were enjoyed and later dancing and bridge.

Tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Lewis, assisted by Mrs. H. P. Hughes.

Miss Stewart of Freeport was an out of town guest.

McCASKEY-MAXWELL WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCaskey, East Washington street, announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth to Lester Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Maxwell, Croton avenue. The ceremony took place this morning at 8 o'clock in the Reformed Presbyterian church, with Rev. E. A. Crooks officiating.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette and carried brides roses. She was attended by Miss Dorothy Prenger, who wore pink georgette, and carried tea roses. Joseph McCaskey, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell left for a wedding trip and upon their return will reside with the bride's parents for the present. Mr. Maxwell is associated with his father in the Maxwell Coal company.

Class Party

Autumn leaves and other clever Halloween suggestions were used in decorations Thursday evening when Mrs. Ira Landis entertained at her home on Highland avenue for the members and husbands of the Gleaners' class of the First Baptist church. Fifty-five were present.

Starting with a "grand march" the evening was spent in a riot of fun. The guests were first escorted on a tour through the home, where they were met at every turn by ghosts, witches, goblins and so forth.

Upon reaching the third floor the roll was called, everyone answering to a "spirit" name. The judges then awarded Harold Mayberry a prize for having the most clever costume. Mrs. George Ferrel received honorable mention.

Following this came the arrival of the "Bungle Family". Those taking part were: Mrs. Ira Landis as "Pa" Bungle, Mrs. Mildred Linton as "Ma" Bungle, Mrs. Harry Irwin, "Little Brother" and Miss Eleanor M. Vallensi as the "Spoiled Baby".

Next in line was the playing of several games. Mrs. Paul Weller as "master of ceremonies", then introduced the "Witch of the Seven Devils" part being portrayed by Eleanor Vallensi, the revealing of their fates causing much merriment.

Delicious refreshments were then served by the hostess, with aides, Mrs. Margaret Doyle, Mrs. Alice Ferrel, Mrs. Sally Gaston and Mrs. Helen Mayberry. Those on the entertainment committee were Mrs. Mary Hasely, Mrs. Elsie Nowalk, Mrs. Elsie Fox, Mrs. Alice Fox and Miss Eleanor Vallensi.

O. J. C. Club

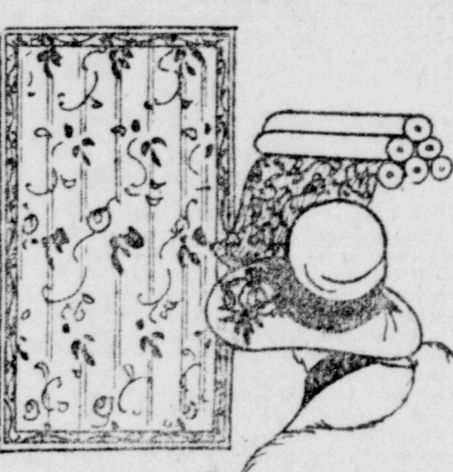

Members of the O. J. C. Club with the husbands and families as guests were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whiteside, of West Moody avenue, at a masquerade party, Friday evening. Thirty five were present, and prizes of the evening were won by Brimley Owens, and Mrs. Charles Shaw.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Brimley Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glatz, Mrs. Jane Johnson, and Harry Nelson, who just returned after five years service with the U. S. Marines. Refreshments carried out in Halloween tones were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jane Johnson, and Mrs. Robert Glatz.

The regular meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. Harry Critchlow, South Mill street.

S. E. B. Class.

Mrs. E. N. Gardner will entertain the S. E. B. class of the First M. E. church at her home on Monday evening October 31. This will be the regular monthly meeting of the class.

HONORS BRIDE-ELECT AT SILVER SHOWER

Mrs. William C. Twaddle, Neshanock avenue, entertained at a silver shower in her home, Friday evening, as a courtesy to Miss Ruth McCaskey, a bride-elect of the season.

The evening was spent with cards, with three tables being in play. Favors were won by Miss Harriet Vickery and Miss Thelma Love.

Many lovely gifts were presented the guest of honor.

Yellow and white color tones were used in the dainty refreshments, and the hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. W. Scott, and Miss Elba Scott.

Miss Edith Moore, of Sharon, Pa., was an out of town guest.

Grand Army Ladies.

Members of the George W. McCracken Circle of the Grand Army Ladies were guests of the Ellwood chapter in the K. of P. hall at Ellwood City Friday. An elaborate dinner was served at noon with 40 local guests in attendance.

A program was enjoyed during the afternoon followed by supper and an entertainment in the evening. Local guests winning prizes were Mrs. Margaret Harkless, Miss Josephs and Mrs. Presley Stockman.

The members will have an all day meeting for quilting in the city building Tuesday November 1.

Friendship Club.

Mrs. Roy Bishop and Mrs. Oliver

Hoch were prize winners when Mrs. Carl Hoch, Wilmington avenue entertained members of the Friendly Girls Club in her home Friday evening.

Special guests were Mrs. R. W. Dick-ey, Mrs. L. D. Badger and Mrs. D. S. Badger.

Mrs. Oliver Hoch assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Plans were made for a tureen dinner in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Roy Bishop, Dickson street.

"WE'RE NOT INTERESTED"

ONE of the ladies visiting North Hill homes yesterday, in the interest of the Community Chest fund, was met at the door by a nice mannered woman. She told her errand.

The lady of the house was cordial, and explained that she did not know what "they" would do.

At this juncture a heavy male voice bawled out in a loud tone from some place in the rear of the home "Aw, tell here we're not interested, and we won't give anything."

Many of the campaign workers could give similar experiences. It is a poor type of citizen that is not interested. And he might be the very one to find out within the space of a few hours, that it would be hard for him, if all humanity in New Castle had bawled out "We're not interested," to appeals in the past.

Suppose he is hurt in an accident, tomorrow. He'll be rushed to a good hospital in this city, where everything will quickly be done to aid in saving his life that is possible to be done. Yes, and why?

Simply because other people not particularly interested in him, have been doing a humanitarian work of supporting the hospitals for just such emergencies. No one in New Castle is safe in declaring that he or she "is not interested."

And the organizations mentioned are only a small part of the Community Chest supported service agencies here.

The others may touch you or your family is just as vital a manner before the year is up. Who knows?

Yes, evader, you are interested. You are mightily interested in the Community Chest whether you will admit it or not. The fact that you seek to shirk responsibility in helping to carry the load, is only an example of what a poor specimen of citizen you are.

And if you who may be reading this are one of this class who has sidestepped responsibility in the present Community Chest drive on the pretext that you "are not interested" you still have time to make amends.

The campaign does not close until Monday at noon, and you can still share in a work that is just as much your obligation as it is mine, or any one of the Community Chest campaign workers.

The agencies supported by the Community Chest are maintained for the betterment of all, and they are the responsibility of all.

We have the utmost respect for those who are willing to aid, but who by force of circumstances cannot, but there is no respect for those who are able, and dodge their obligation with "I'm Not Interested."

Get right with yourself on this proposition!

THE DEAD GOOSE

ANTHRACITE coal operators and miners are in a state of alarm.

The demand for hard coal is far below that of a few years ago and is still diminishing. Shipments to New England states are 20 per cent less than three years ago, and there has been a decided loss in tonnage shipped to the West. Even in the heart of the anthracite country this fuel is suffering from competition with others.

The responsibility rests largely with the operators and miners themselves. In past years when they undertook at frequent intervals to settle disputes over wages and working conditions by strike or lockout, they set about it knowing that whatever the outcome the consumers would pay the cost of the interruption. Having no substitute fuel to turn to the anthracite-consuming public looked upon the closing of the mines for any considerable time as a national calamity.

But there is a last straw in all things, and the last anthracite strike seems to have been it. It is remembered that after the first fever of apprehension the public decided to try other fuels. Many found substitutes that met their needs and have never returned to hard coal. The warning of farsighted producers that business was being lost that would never be regained came too late.

Coal barons and their employees have discovered that it is easier to lose a market than to recapture it. They rode the willing horse to death. There is an object lesson for every industry that is tempted to become arrogant.

As Benito Mussolini was the dominating figure in the celebrations held in Italy yesterday in honor of the fifth anniversary of the Fascist Government, so is Mustapha Kemal Pasha the central figure in the similar celebrations being held in Turkey today to mark the anniversary of the Republic.

Kemal Pasha has been the President of the Turkish Republic since its establishment four years ago.

Previously he had been commander-in-chief of the army and president of the Grand National Assembly.

It was as a soldier that he first rose to fame. He was credited with being largely responsible for the defeat of the British at Gallipoli in the World War, and it was under his direction that the Turkish army defeated the Greeks.

He was the controlling hand of the Turkish delegation at the Lausanne conference.

The Neil House in Columbus, O., is perhaps the most historical spot in the world politically. Three hotels have been built on this site and they were all called Neil House and each one has been bigger and better than the last.

Every president and every U. S. Senator from Ohio has really been made in the Neil House. Ohio has furnished many notable men to the nation in the way of presidents. Right across the street from the Neil House and just in front of the Capital of Ohio is a statue of all the presidents of the United States from Ohio and any American who can stand in front of that monument without experiencing a thrill ought to go to Russia and stay there.

All tailors should have a fondness for thread apple. If it wasn't for the red apple, where would the tailoring business be today?

Newspapers are expected to send reporters to many functions that want publicity and report the proceedings of the event. A great many people not only expect and demand that reporters be sent to report the affair but also expect the newspapers to pay for tickets so the reporters can get into the place to do the reporting in charge expert. Newspapers do not care to pay for tickets for reporters who are expected to report events that often could be left out of the paper without any great loss to any one. It's a small matter to the part of the newspapers. Reporters as a rule do not care for night work any more than other people do.

The gentlemen who put up the money to make the overseas flight of Miss Elder possible have ordered her to return to this country. So far we have heard nothing about Ruthie's husband demanding her return to the family roof. Some husbands surely are lenient enough. We have a very dear friend in the West Indies. His name is Bert Stevenson and he lived for many years in this city. He has a great plantation in Porto Rico and he raises pineapples, grapefruit, etc. We have just received a case of pineapples from his farm direct and we want to tell you that the original honest-to-goodness pineapple comes from his place. They are so good they seldom get this far inland unless he sends them direct to his friends. He is a real friend and knows his citrus fruits and pineapples.

A big New York actor has sued a sweet little actress for one hundred thousand dollars damages because she referred to him as "A Big Wop." He

A man who inherited $146,000 was made so sick by his good fortune that he had to stay in bed for three days. We don't think getting that much money or more would make us sick, any how we are willing to take a chance on shock if anyone wants to send the money over.

The heirs of an Indian Rajah of Bhopal offer for sale in New York a collection of carved emeralds. One weighing 3,500 karats is carved to represent a Chinese woman. The price, should you want to buy something for Christmas, is $500,000. The value of the stone is largely spoiled by the fact that it is intricately carved instead of being polished and set alone.

Good Citizen; Good Son.

Thankful? VERY.

To Kill Gorillas.

Giannini Methods.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.)

S. Davies Warfield, head of the Seaboard Air Line, an admirable worker for his country, was buried yesterday in Baltimore.

His life of energetic work and building earned the respect and gratitude of his fellow citizens. And they learn with admiration the use to which he has left his fortune of several millions.

The money will be used to found a home for dependent aged women, in memory of Mr. Warfield's mother, who died many years ago.

A proclamation by the President fixes November 24 as Thanksgiving Day and mentions some things for which we should be thankful, such as "greater knowledge of the higher values of life" and "advancement in our physical well-being."

It may also be mentioned that we are still out of the League of Nations, prosperity continues, high wages HAVEN'T gone down while the cost of living HAS gone down.

We may well praise the Lord, for we are fearfully and wonderfully fortunate.

Every prospect pleases. Foreigners buy from us, although our money is high in value.

In September we exported 33,748,000 bushels of wheat, 10,948,000 bushels more than in September, 1926. We got, this year, $13,955,000 more than for last year's September wheat exports. We should be grateful for our blessings.

Miss Alice O'Brien, with a rich father, able to do as she pleases, wants to hear African drums vibrate through the tropical night along the shores of the Congo, and to see "the weird ceremonies of an African witch doctor."

Most interesting, the young girl thinks she is going to kill gorillas.

That a young human girl should want to kill gorillas is not unusual, but we should shudder if we heard that a young gorilla girl was coming north to kill human girls.

Miss O'Brien, of course, will not really kill any gorillas. Looking into the dark, strange face, she could not shoot. She will visit King Musinga, last of many African potentates, seven feet two inches tall, rich, handsome, with twenty wives—not many, in that climate.

The powerful Bank of Italy hands to its stockholders a dividend of 300,000 shares; 250,000 other shares will be offered to stockholders at $180 a share and the Bancitaly Corporation will buy 250,000 shares at the same price. The Giannini Brothers, with their 165 different branch banks in California, buying banks rapidly throughout the country, are teaching old fashioned finance some new methods.

Jack Dempsey, who fights and lives to fight another day, can't pay his manager, Mr. Flynn, all he would like to because, says Mr. Dempsey, "I am not making big money and can't afford to give them everything they want."

Dempsey made about $500,000 in thirty minutes the other day and will soon make $500,000 in thirty more minutes or less again. But you can't call that BIG money, for a "heavyweight."

Some clergymen that work hard for smaller pay will be inclined to quote: "Now, in the names of all the gods at once, Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed."

That he is grown so great? Nevertheless, when you have become accustomed to earning a million dollars in thirty minutes, it is hard to be cut down to half a million.

Calles Orders U. S. Goods Ban Be Terminated

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29.—The Mexican government's ban on purchases in the United States will be terminated November 1. President Calles has ordered the Mexican controller general that the necessity for it no longer exists, it was learned today.

The ban went into effect May 31, 1927, and prohibited Mexican officials from purchasing goods for the government in the United States. The reason given at the time was the embargo placed by the United States government on the purchase of war material in America. Shipments from Europe, via the United States, are alleged to have been affected by the Mexican government's ban.

New Trial Refused In Ruehle Case

Opinion Handed Down On Auto Collision Which Occurred On An Ohio Road

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand in the case of S. M. Ruehle and Jennie Ruehle, his wife, against Louis Yoho, an application for a new trial is refused. The case was one in which suit was brought by plaintiffs against the defendant for damages growing out of an automobile accident in Ohio. It was claimed that the Ruehle machine was being driven by Elton Ruehle and as it approached a road intersection was going north. Another machine was going east and they collided at the intersection. It was claimed that Yoho who was going east failed to give the right of way, both machines having reached the crossing at the same time. It was shown at the trial that the Ruehle machine was being driven at about 35 miles per hour.

Following the trial of the case a verdict was rendered for the defendant. Judge Hildebrand sees no reason for trying the case again.

Gets Prize For Local Pictures

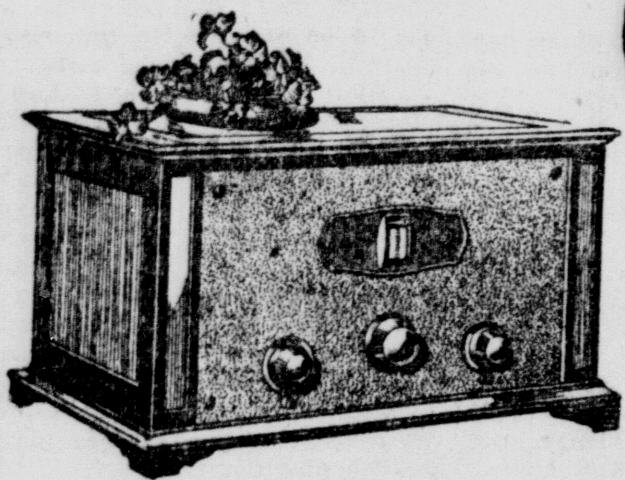

Although Henry E. Golder did the work of resurfacing Jefferson street in the remarkable time of nine days it remained for his young son Robert H. Golder aged 13 to collect a piece of prize money for a picture of the work.

In the November issue of Construction Methods Robert has two pictures of the work done on Jefferson street which won him third prize in the photographic contest conducted by the magazine. Both pictures are action pictures of splendid technique and in addition to winning the prize money the young man has done a piece of publicity work for his native city.

Consolidation Of Schools Is Asked

Applications for consolidated schools at New Bedford and at Wurttemberg, and for the approval of the Shenango township consolidated school, have been forwarded to the state department at Harrisburg by County Superintendent J. C. Syling. New Bedford is now really operating under the consolidated system, the school at Maple Grove and two grades at Frizzleburg, being taken in. New Bedford has a four room building, and it can take care of the schools mentioned without having to erect any additions. It is possible that a larger building may be built in the future and other schools taken in. Wurttemberg is also taking care of No. 6 school in Perry township.

NOTICE MUMMERS

Always a part of any civic movement, the Capitol Theatre wishes to have a part in the Halloween celebration on Monday night, October 31.

Because it will be impossible for the Capitol to participate in the parade, it has arranged for a celebration of its own following the parade.

After you have paraded, and competed for prizes, come down to the Capitol Theatre where additional prizes will be offered. For the best costume, $5.00 in cash is offered, for the second, $3.00 and for the third $2.00.

This will not take place until after the Mummer's Parade has been disbanded on the streets of the city.

Pretty Ballet Dancer Once Collected Iron To Buy New Shoes

MISS JANET GIBBARD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 29.—A golden slipper has come to the Toledo "Cinderella" who once hunted scrap iron to obtain money with which to buy shoes.

Want and privation throughout childhood. Picking up scrap iron about the city to boost the family income, and then, suddenly, after struggling, weary years, success!

A place as solo dancer in the Chicago Opera company! Then travel, applause, fame and wealth!

That is the story of Janet Gibbard, 20-year-old Toledo girl, who was cheered by thousands while she did the solo dance in Mary Garden's "Carmen."

Mother Sees Debut
Miss Gibbard's mother laid aside her work and sat in a front seat to watch her daughter dance.

It was the first time she had seen her perform since that night a few years before when the agile girl started on her career by dancing at a newsboys' benefit here.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Second U. P.

Propose Bond Issue For An Addition To Plaingrove School

Former Bond Issue All Paid Off And Taxation Has Been Reduced Under New Plan

Plaingrove township, the pioneer in consolidated schools in Lawrence county, will vote at the coming election on a proposition to bond the township for $20,000 to be used in erecting an addition to the present consolidated school building. Superintendent J. C. Syling and Deputy C. F. Ball attended an enthusiastic meeting in the Plaingrove Presbyterian church on Thursday evening of this week in which sentiment was strong for the proposed movement.

Plaingrove township's bonds which were issued for the original consolidated school building in 1913, have all been paid off and there is a surplus in the treasury. Since the consolidated school building in 1913, have all been paid off and there is a surplus in the treasury. Since the consolidated school building in 1913, have all been paid off and there is a surplus in the treasury.

All the schools of the township have been eliminated since the erection of the consolidated building, with the exception of the Brent school. If the addition is built this school will also be discontinued and the pupils transported to the consolidated school.

If the bond issue goes through it is proposed to erect a gymnasium, library room and three class rooms. Plaingrove consolidated her schools in 1914, being the first in the county. Results have been eminently satisfactory.

New Buildings At Westminster Are Inspected

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—Special chapel exercises were held this morning at Westminster college in connection with home-coming day. Over 650 students and alumni were present at the exercises.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of the college, presided. Dr. James Blackwood of Cleveland, O., a former member of the board of trustees of the college, read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. A violin solo was rendered by Miss Alberta Kagy of the school of music and Miss Jessie Moeckel gave an organ solo.

Dr. Wallace in a brief speech welcomed the alumni back to the college. Awards were given to the tennis and track teams. At 12 o'clock an inspection of the two new buildings was made by the visitors under the lead of Malcolm H. White, supervisor of architects in the college.

To Present Chest Cause On Sunday

Community Chest headquarters is a busy place today. While there is no noon meeting, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, general chairman, and the various executive heads of the drive are busy making arrangements for the closing day, on Monday, and the workers are out combing the city for enough subscriptions to put the drive over in the shape it deserves.

In order to give everybody a chance to subscribe, speakers and workers will be in the various churches of the city on Sunday morning. The speakers will take three minutes to plead the cause of Community Chest, and the workers will have subscription blanks for those who care to subscribe.

As we understand it the straight and narrow road isn't wide enough for two cars to pass going in opposite directions.

Adrain College Squad Stops Over At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—Twenty-six members of the football squad of Adrain college stopped over at Westminster college yesterday on their way to play Grove City college, the game being scheduled for this afternoon.

The squad was offered the use of the gymnasium and athletic field for practice yesterday afternoon and stayed all night in the village and proceeded on to Grove City this morning. Coach Spankie, the former Mt. Union football star, seems to have a strong aggregation.

Sunshine Brings Out Large Crowd

Downtown Business Streets Crowded With Shoppers
And Fans

A slight downfall of rain followed by a warm sunshine chased away fear that Indian summer had gone and a large crowd of shoppers spread a busy-like scene in East Washington and other downtown sections today. At 11 a. m. the thoroughfares were crowded and at 1:30 p. m. the crowd was increased by the football fans making their way to Franklin stadium where Peabody and New Castle are playing.

Amos---A Layman Preaching Judgement A Chat With Sunday School Pupils

The Golden Text

Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. AMOS 5:14.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
Amos denied being either "a prophet or a prophet's son." He was a herdsman and dresser of fruit trees, a plain layman of the southern kingdom drafted by the Lord to preach judgement to the northern kingdom of Israel.
"It was the period of great prosperity in the days of King Jeroboam II. and, as is usually the case, prosperity bred irreligion rather than godliness. The burden of Amos is national accountability for national sins. God will bring every nation into judgement for its attitude towards and its treatment of humanity.
"Accordingly, he pronounces the judgement of God upon six surrounding gentile nations for the national sins that characterized them. Finally bold animalism of their women whom he addresses as "ye kine of Bashan"; and chief of all, the mockery of their pretense of worshipping God when their hearts were not right. His bold challenge to the nation was, "Prepare to meet thy God, O Israel!"

"To enforce his warning he pictured the coming destruction of the nation in five visions of judgement, namely, the locust plague and fire sweeping the nation; the plumb-line showing its crookedness; the basket of perishing fruit symbolizing its decay at hand and the spiritual famine of God's withdrawal from the nation.
"It is little wonder that such a plain preacher was invited to return to his own land and mind his own business. But the judgement Amos predicted came to pass within fifty years in the captivity and destruction of the northern kingdom of Israel. He closes his prophecy with a promise to "raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen and close up the breaches thereof; to raise up his ruins and build it as in the days of old." In Acts 15:16 St. James quotes this promise of Amos and claims its fulfillment in Jesus Christ and his Church made up of both gentiles and Jews with no breach between."

"Quoted with the author's permission from "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book" by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, O., 169 pages $1.50.
for October 30 is Amos 2:4 to 3:15, the subject being "Amos Denounces Sin", and the golden text Amos 5:14: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live, and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken."

HALLOWEEN PARTY
Approximately 175 attended the Halloween masquerade party in the Mahoning M. E. church Friday evening. The party was held by the Epworth League of the church. The greater part of persons present were children.

For the party, the basement of the church was decorated with Halloween colors and novelties. Two prizes were awarded for the best characters. The adult prize went to Miss Emma Freed, dressed as a colored man, and the children's prize went to a boy dressed as a hunchback. His name was not learned. Rev. D. D. Sleppy was judge of costumes.

There were two booths, a fortune telling booth with Mrs. Omar Mauck as fortune teller, and a fish pond and candy booth in charge of Miss Grace Wallace, Ethel Alexander and Mary Marshall.

For entertainment there was a chamber of horrors which all had to go through, and a playlet was given. The title of the playlet was "Wild Nell of the Plains." Characters were: Wild Nell, Harriet Truby; Handsome Harry, Henry Hamilton; Lady Ver de Ver, Virginia Yates; Sitting Bull, Bob Goodfellow; Bill Graham, Richard Wallace; Hula Hula, Mrs. Henry Hamilton. M. C. Adams directed the playlet.

After the program, refreshments were served. A most enjoyable time was had by all attending the party.

GIRLS KENSINGTON
Mrs. Raymond Horchler was hostess to the Girls Kensington in her home on W. Clayton street Friday evening. There was a good attendance of members. Mrs. C. L. Martin of Youngstown, O., was an out-of-town member present. Mrs. J. H. Gwin was a special guest.

The evening was spent with sewing and chat. Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Plans for the next meeting of the club will be announced later.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
The first two grades at Mahoning school had a Halloween party in the school Friday afternoon. The pupils of the two groups of the first grade were masked to school in the afternoon and had a little party during school hours.

HOME GUARDS
There was no meeting of the Home Guards conducted in the Mahoning M. E. church on Friday as was scheduled. This meeting was postponed on account of the Halloween party in the church Friday evening.

CLASS PARTY
The Sabbath school class of the Mahoning Presbyterian church taught by Rev. D. C. Schnebly had a taffy pull at the Schnebly home on Newell avenue Friday evening. Besides class members, Miss Virginia Howard and Helen Carnes were present. An enjoyable evening was spent pulling taffy.

METHODIST CHURCH

THE WARNING

Out of the dusky shadows came the quivering cry. Peter startled, crouched down in a small heap as any boy could make himself into and peered fearfully over his shoulder. The largest little Possum left the others at their games and ran to Peter's side. "Great grasshoppers! what was that!" whispered he. Peter shook his head.

"Don't know, I'm sure," answered the boy under his breath. Wasn't it the saddest sound you ever heard in your life? I didn't think in all the woods there was anybody awake but you Possums and myself, but as sure as you are born, off in the darkness that lies beyond the moonlight, some one is in trouble. Hark! There it is again. Who says it, he's sobbing so hard at this time of night?"

"I think it's old," began the little Possum, but at this instant the wall came again and much closer at hand. Peter answered his own question. "Pooh! Nobody's in trouble at all and there is no one to be afraid of, little Possum. How stupid I was to be so frightened! Screech Owl is right flying—that's all. The wise old bird is up to his old tricks, acting as though he had lost his last friend and making folks who don't know he just loves to be miserable feel sorry for him. Ooh! I wish he wouldn't do that! That frightened note in his voice makes the shivers run right up and down my back!"

The little Possum cocked up one ear. "It's Screech Owl, sure 'nuff, and you are right. But his voice doesn't sound a bit as it usually does. Yet he is not frightened, I am certain. Why should he be? He is the king of the shadows—no night flyer as large as he that I know of. He is too wise to fall into the clutches of any of the animals that prowl in the darkness. Look at Mother, will you! Her fur is standing up straight! Oh, dear me, now I know what the matter is. Screech Owl is fearful—not for himself, though, but for us. Trouble is a-brood. The wise old night flyer is trying to warn us with his 'Twit, tw'hoow.'"

History Is Repeating!

Way back in 1895—four years after Moore's built their original Moore's Air-Tight Heater (the first circulating Heater)—there were more than 40 manufacturers making Air-Tights. Two years later Moore's Air-Tight had but three competitors. And only Moore's continued to make and sell a circulating Heater through the years.

The reason was construction—the all cast-iron inside of Moore's stood up to the test.

Be Safe

Today history is repeating. The market is flooded with circulating heaters. Only those of proven inside construction can survive. Play safe! The inner construction of Moore's Seventeen is on the proven principle of Moore's Air-Tight. It will last.

Young People To Meet On Sunday

Reception For New Officers And Delegates To Feature Meeting

A meeting of the Young People's Council of the New Castle district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, will be held Sunday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, under the supervision of T. J. Davies, the district superintendent, and his associate, Miss Geneva Fleming. The meeting is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock and a number of important matters will be up for consideration at this time.

One of the important matters to be considered will be the completion of the plans for the concert to be presented by the Myers Jubilee Singers, a colored quartette.

At the meeting of the council, there will also be the reception of new officers and delegates. The greeting to the new officers and delegates will be extended by Miss Geneva Fleming, associate superintendent of the district.

Duwayne Glenn and Claudia Boughter, president of the boys and girls sections respectively, will respond on behalf of the new officers. The response for the older members of the council will be given by Clarence Bratschie and Henrietta Campbell, while the response for the newer members of the council will be made by Austin and Mildred Cowmeadow.

North Liberty

Mrs. Jennie Offutt, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Offutt and son Billy of New Castle, McKinney Offutt of Fort Wayne, Ind., were callers at T. A. George's on Sabbath.

Frank and Anna Belle Humphrey of Mahoningtown were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Humphreys a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Locke of Plaingrove, former residents of this place, attended church services here on Sabbath and greeted old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dale and Mr. and Mrs. H. Dunning motored to Cambridge Springs last week and visited Mr. and Mrs. George Watson.

Gladys George of Grove City was the guest of Glenna George the first of the week.

Mrs. Margaret Forrest is able to be around again after a few days illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elder of Fredonia spent the week-end at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beatty of Cochran are spending a few days at Norman Brennen's.

W. C. Dale has been making some repairs on his house here in the village. Mr. Brennen of Volant expects to move in soon.

Mrs. H. Dunning entertained the following ladies at a luncheon on Thursday: Mrs. Dight, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. George.

Rev. Fowler of Seattle, Washington, preached for us on Sabbath and stated that he was considering the call that had been extended to him by the North Liberty and Center congregations and would make known his decision this week.

Farm and Home Day was held at the Liberty school, Friday, October 21st. A picnic dinner was held at noon, at which time a goodly number of the parents and patrons of the school participated. A fine display of farm products had been brought by the children and these were judged by Mrs. O. J. Glenn, Mrs. Eva Campbell and Mrs. H. Dunning. The teacher presented a prize to the family who received the most blue ribbons and this was won by Frank and Harold George. A short program was presented by the school.

Bertha Glenn and Mary Moore, teachers in the Chewton school spent the week-end with their parents here.

Of interest to many friends in North Liberty is the announcement of the marriage of Florence M. Kennedy of Wampum and Lewis Sankey of this place. The marriage was solemnized at a beautiful ceremony at noon on Wednesday, Oct. 19th at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kennedy of Wampum. Rev. Ira Scott of Slippery Rock officiating. The ring ceremony was used. Dorothy Mae Lawrence of Pittsburgh was ring bearer. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of blue satin, with harmonizing accessories and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Supplementing the ceremony, luncheon was served to 30 guests. Appointments in pink and white were most effective, the bride's table being centered by a beautiful wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Sankey left for a motor trip to Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia and Washington and upon their return will reside in North Liberty. Mrs. Sankey is an accomplished young woman, a graduate of Slippery Rock Normal and Geneva College, and has been employed as a teacher in the Lawrence County schools. Mr. Sankey, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sankey of Plaingrove township, has conducted a general store in this place for seven years and has many friends.

Former Resident Taken To Hospital

Mrs. Sarah Murdoch of West North street, today received word to the effect that her daughter, Mrs. Daniel O'Neil of Woodlawn, had been removed to the South Side Hospital in Pittsburgh, last night.

The message was to the effect that she would undergo an operation at that institution some time today. The operation is considered severe. Her many friends here hope for her speedy recovery.

$800,000 Is Spent On Mercer Bridges During Ten Years

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 29.—In the ten years just passed bridges that cost at a conservative estimate $800,000 have been built in Mercer county, mostly on the highways taken over as primary routes.

In addition to this cost, repairs costing $300,000 have been made on the 600 bridges that are in the care of the board of county commissioners. The figures given are the statements of County Engineer P. P. Graham who is authority for the statement also that during the coming two years there will be need for additional new bridges due to the extensive road improvement program in the county.

An inspection trip over the county is now being made by the engineer and county officials.

It is reported that many of the bridges are in need of painting badly at this time but no contracts have been let for this fall.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Everybody has their own way of making a living. And everybody thinks the job they do is the hardest of the lot. But if you think you have a hard job, stand around the corner of Mercer and Washington streets a while and watch those lads who are riveting the steelwork together on the new First National building.

They scamper back and forth on steel girders that you and I could hardly walk if they were lying on the ground. To get up the girders they just climb up, how is one for the book, and to get down, they just wrap a leg around the iron and slide.

And all day long that rat-a-tat-tat of the rivet hammer keeps pounding away until some of the office tenants in the Safe Deposit building probably would like to see rubber rivets used.

It's the nearest thing to machine gun fire, that rivet racket. One can close his eyes and imagine a dozen Brownings pouring out their lead death as that rapid fire tapping goes on.

Somebody suggested yesterday that the ironworker's life was a constant flirtation with airplane poison. One drop is usually fatal.

After all the nice weather we have had this week, at 10 this morning it looked as though rain might interfere with Westminster's Homecoming day. Andy McDonald was as cheerful as a sparrow on Friday, but Andy's face underwent a change this morning. For the Homecoming the Westminster team played Duquesne university, coached by one of those famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame—Elmer Layden. He and his wife are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green over the week-end.

Did a little roaming around the Doll Show of the Quota club last night. Saw a lot of pretty dolls up in the lobby of the cathedral, but as between the dolls on the table and some of the ones who were spectators, the live ones were the most interesting.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT REPORTED TO POLICE

Thomas Donnelly, 515 Sheridan avenue, reported Friday that he was driving west on Park avenue and making a left turn onto Highland avenue, while following another machine, that a car bearing Pennsylvania license 862-004 going south on Highland avenue, struck and damaged his machine.

Making Ready For Radio Show

Annual Radio Show In New Castle At Cathedral
Next Week

MANY FEATURES BEING ARRANGED

New Castle's second annual Radio Show will be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, November 2, 3, 4 and 5. The show will be in the main dining room, which is being transformed into a beautiful radio salon, by a corps of electricians, carpenters and florists, under the personal direction of H. K. Armstrong, show manager.

The leading radio dealers under the auspices of the Radio Dealers Association are co-operating to put on a display that is as elaborate as those held in the larger cities. The latest achievements in radio sets and accessories of all manufacture will be exhibited and the public will be enabled to become acquainted with them. Just a casual visit to the show will be an education in radio. No one even though they are but mildly interested in radio at the present time, can afford to remain away from this show.

The entertainment this year will feature radio artists from Stations KDKA, WCAE and WTAM. Each night will be a gala offering. This will be the first opportunity to see these people who have entertained you in the past few years, and they will be glad to meet the many friends at the show, whom they have won through their broadcasting.

For the opening night members of The Wandering Minstrels, WTAM Artists, broadcast every Friday night will be featured. Thursday will be WCAE night and the Studio Gang will be present, including Lillian Bardner, Studio Hostess, Olga Mundy, The Wallisch Sisters, Delphine Helmet, Lillian Blanc, Frances Doherty, Al Ryerson, C. A. Wakeman, Ernest Rabock and Burt McMurtree, Director of Station WCAE, and Editor of Music and Literature of the Pittsburgh Press.

Edz Covato's Flotilla Club Orchestra will entertain at the show Friday, November 4th. From 9:00 until 1:00 they will furnish music for the Radio Show Dance in the Cathedral ball room.

Saturday will be KDKA night featuring the R. V. B. Trio and others. Hours of show—7:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. No shows in afternoon.

An electric company is making a mechanical man that does exactly as it is told to do and no more and no less. There are a couple of buildings in Washington where the company ought to be able to sell 531.

WHY IS THE NEGRO SPIRITUAL SO POPULAR?

"Far from his native land and customs, despised by those among whom he lived, experiencing the pangs of separation of loved ones on the auction block, knowing the hard task master, feeling the lash, the Negro seized Christianity, the religion of compensations in the life to come for the ills suffered in the present existence, the religion which implied the hope that in the next world there would be a reversal of conditions, of rich man and poor man, of proud and meek, of master and slave. The result was a body of songs voicing all the cardinal virtues of Christianity—patience—forgiveness—love—faith—and hope through a necessarily modified form of primitive African music. The Negro took complete refuge in Christianity and the spirituals were literally forged of sorrow in the heat of religious fervor. They exhibited moreover, a reversion to the simple principles of primitive, communal Christianity."

The greatest exponents of this music in the world today are Rosamond Johnson and Taylor Gordon who come to NEW CASTLE, Scottish Rite Auditorium.

January 5th, the Third Attraction on the Educational Art Society Concert Series.

Thru Arthur Gaijes, Manager of the Minneapolis Orchestra, we learned that these famous colored artists appeared last season at one of our largest universities on the same series with the "best known" soprano, and the "highest priced" tenor in the world today. At the close of the season, the university authorities wrote the manager of Gordon and Johnson, stating that the concert by these distinguished colored artists, WAS THE MOST SATISFACTORY OF THE ENTIRE SERIES.

They are a tremendous success everywhere; a success that is based upon an elevating emotional appeal.

Remember that for only $4.00, $5.00, $6.50, $8.00 or $10.00, no tax, you get to hear GORDON AND JOHNSON, in Jan., Mary Lewis in Feb., Richard Crooks in March, a Big Popular Night in April, Goldman and his Band on Dec. 5th and NEXT TUESDAY.

Urges Sportsmen To Guard Against Starting Any Fires

Hunting Season Near At Hand Cause Of State Warning

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—With the hunting season close at hand when thousands of hunters will be in the woods, warning is given out by the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters to all who go into the woods to use every precaution in the prevention of forest fires.

The hunting season and the fall forest fire season come together. With the dry leaves and dead grass covering the ground a careless left campfire, burning tobacco or a pile of burning leaves may result in a fire of large area doing great damage. It is to the advantage of all persons in or near wooded areas to use the utmost care with fire.

"The sportsman who protects the forest from fire," said George H. Wirt, chief forest fire warden in an interview today, "does the greatest thing that can be done for the protection of game. Recent rains and the absence of frosts have eliminated the danger of serious forest fires so far this fall. But several hot windy days may make conditions right for destructive forest fires to burn. The sportsman cannot afford to take any chance with fire in any way from which a forest fire may arise. He should get the habit of being careful with matches, tobacco and camp fires now so that when dry days come there will be no damage to the home and food of the game nor to the game itself. It is usually the careless act with fire that starts the wild fire that destroys the forests and game."

Recent studies have shown that birds and animals are killed by forest fires because of their homing instinct. They are driven from their haunts by the forest fire and then their feet and legs are injured or they may become burned on the body so that they die. A true sportsman will give his quarry at least a reasonable chance to save itself. Letting a forest fire get started or continue to burn is a sure sign of a poor sport.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Add to the many mournful plights of New Yorkers, this pathetic story. A poor family of the east side recently lost two children, when the latter were trapped in a tenement fire. Now the two babies are in the morgue and they will be buried in Potter's field unless the parents can raise enough money for an orthodox burial. And as things appear now, the parents will not be able to secure the required amount. That, it seems to me, is a tragedy which can only be found in a city as large as this one.

The Evening World here has been running a unique feature which lists and describes the many strange jobs which are found here. Consider the young lady who runs the elevator in the Woolworth Tower. She says that here is the most healthful employment in the city and that she would not descend to mundane levels for a great deal more salary than she is now getting. Then there is the man who feeds the fishes—day in and day out—in the aquarium. And another whose duty it is to place signals on the tower of the United States weather bureau, to inform ships in the harbor of what they may expect. Flags are used in the daytime, colored lights at night.

It would be hard to find a more Irish name than that of Patrick Walsh who is the traffic cop stationed at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street. His is the distinction of guiding the world's largest flow of traffic. A learned gentleman in the Bronx has exclusive charge of the snakes in the city zoo. Another civil employe makes his home in the Statue of Liberty. He is the lady's protector and caretaker. A young man from Brooklyn drives a bus all day long, and he never encounters a bit of traffic. For his bus is the only vehicle which runs back and forth under the new tunnel under the Hudson.

The other night I happened to be among the crowd in the theater district, which was entertained by the spectacle of some half dozen of policemen gone cowboy. A truck had been traveling through the streets, laden with calves, and through some mishap, the cattle had escaped. Thereupon our versatile and unself-conscious guardians of the peace took to lariats and chased madly up and down the street, flinging their ropes at the frightened animals. As a loyal local citizen, I must admit that as cow punchers our policemen are good constables.

There is a ragged gamin who haunts the imposing front of Roxy's theatre. He stands back most of the time, unobtrusive in the crowd. But when a taxi draws up, he dashes forth to open the door—invariably getting there ahead of the uniformed starter. He also usually gets a tip, which the starter is not allowed to take, on pain of dismissal. And it is not unlikely that that is why the starter is always late in getting there. It would not surprise me to learn that he got a rake-off from the urchin.

The arrangement of streets at the Barclay street ferry must appear, to out-of-towners, as a deliberate trap. New motorists, coming off the ferry, naturally head up Barclay street. But as this happens to be a west bound one-way street, nine times out of ten, the visitors are nabbed by the traffic cop at Broadway. True, there is a small arrow on a lamppost at the river end, pointing westward. But to one who is not abnormally observant, this direction would never appear. After all there is no reason especially, why Barclay street should be open to only westward traffic. It seems to be an arbitrary arrangement that will incur a deal of ill-will toward the city.

I accept the passing of summer... The chimney sweep is around, collecting orders to clean out fireplaces.

The first small yellow chrysanthemums are budding out in the garden... The hickory nuts are kicking under my feet and the squirrels make a terrible chatter of mornings... The beach is practically deserted, even on the bluest and warmest of mornings, all the clattering frauleins and their charges having migrated south to West End avenue and Riverside Drive... The grass no longer needs cropping... The 5:13 to Mamaroneck arrives here on the edge of dusk... Pumpkins lie shimmering in the fields along Weaver street and the roads to White Plains... Lights bloom out early in all the little houses.

Exhibitors Pleased At Convention Here

Attorney Homer C. Drake Gets Letter Of Commendation From State Secretary

In a letter just received by Attorney Homer C. Drake from Walter E. Myers, general secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, the work of his committee in handling the exhibits at the recent state convention is commended. The letter follows:

Philadelphia, Oct. 22, 1927.

Mr. Homer C. Drake,

Lawrence Savings & Trust Bldg., New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Drake:

It isn't easy to please exhibitors in a great state convention, yet I heard a number of them express their appreciation of the fine preparation you had made, with the help of your committee, for their comfort. I hope that you got some measure of compensation from knowing that you made a genuine contribution to the success of the convention.

Sometimes I think commercial exhibits in a Sunday school convention are a nuisance; other times I realize that they are absolutely necessary for the carrying on of our work. Your part, therefore, was a very important one and we appreciate it very much, indeed. Please tell the others!

I hope it may be your pleasure to be with us in Philadelphia and look on and see the others work.

Cordially,

WALTER E. MYERS,

General Secretary.

Penn-Ohio Club Has First Meeting Of Winter Season

N. H. Wood Speaks To Assembly On "Romance Of Power"; Orchestra Entertains

The first meeting of the season of the Penn-Ohio club, an organization of officials and leading employees of the Penn-Ohio system from all parts of the territory served, was held on Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Dinner preceded the meeting. One hundred and fifty folks from Youngstown, New Castle, Sharon, Greenville, Salem, Lisbon, Warren and Niles were in attendance.

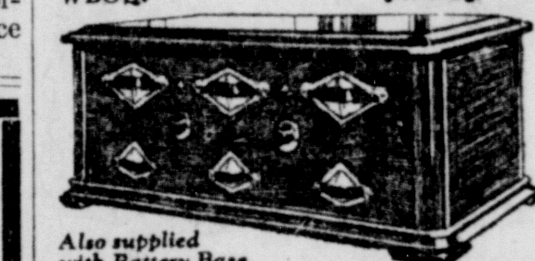

Music by the Penn-Ohio orchestra and a comedy sketch by Roy Whittemberger and P. E. Thomas were delightful entertainment features. A. R. Hughes, new president of the club, presided and turned the meeting over to F. W. Funk, as chairman of the program committee.

Short talks about phases of Penn-Ohio system activities were made by C. S. MacCalla, vice-president and general manager; C. E. Yacoll, manager of the securities department, and Ralph Crump, of the lighting sales department.

was an illustrated address by H. N. Wood, commercial manager, on the "Romance of Power", in which he vividly portrayed the economic advantages of the United States as compared with countries in all other parts of the world and demonstrated that this superiority, as found by British, German and other commissions that have investigated, was chiefly attributable to the use in America of abundant electric power and machinery. He pointed out that four times as much electric power is used per capita in the United States as in Great Britain.

Sub-District Rally Of Epworth League Brings Large Crowd

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—About a hundred and fifty persons were present at the sub-district rally of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, held in the First Methodist church last evening.

An interesting program was given by the Beaver Valley delegation which was very much enjoyed by the league. This was followed by a recreational hour in the basement of the church which was decorated for the occasion in Halloween pumpkins and streamers in yellow and black, where refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

Slippery Rock Sunday School Classes Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—About fifty-five were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson of New Castle road last evening when the class taught by Rev. Elliott entertained the class taught by Mrs. Elliott at a Halloween party.

Witches, black cats, and pumpkins were used to decorate the house. The first part of the evening the guests were masked, and much jollity ensued in trying to guess who was wearing the various queer make-ups.

Later, games were enjoyed, followed by delicious refreshments served by the committee in charge.

Knit-A-Bit Members Entertain Husbands

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Members of the Knit-A-Bit Club entertained their husbands at their annual Halloween party in the form of a progressive dinner party at the homes of three of the women, Mrs. John C. Coblentz, Mrs. R. A. Snedden, and Mrs. John Brennehan. Covers were laid for twenty at the dinner.

The first course was served at the Coblentz home and was followed by the guests, after which the guests went to the Snedden home where the main dinner awaited them. The last course, and the remainder of the evening was spent at the Brennehan home.

After dinner, more Halloween stunts were enjoyed and the later hours were spent in enjoying the radio.

Halloween colors and tokens were used in decoration at all the homes visited by the guests. This party is an annual affair held by the members of the club for their husbands.

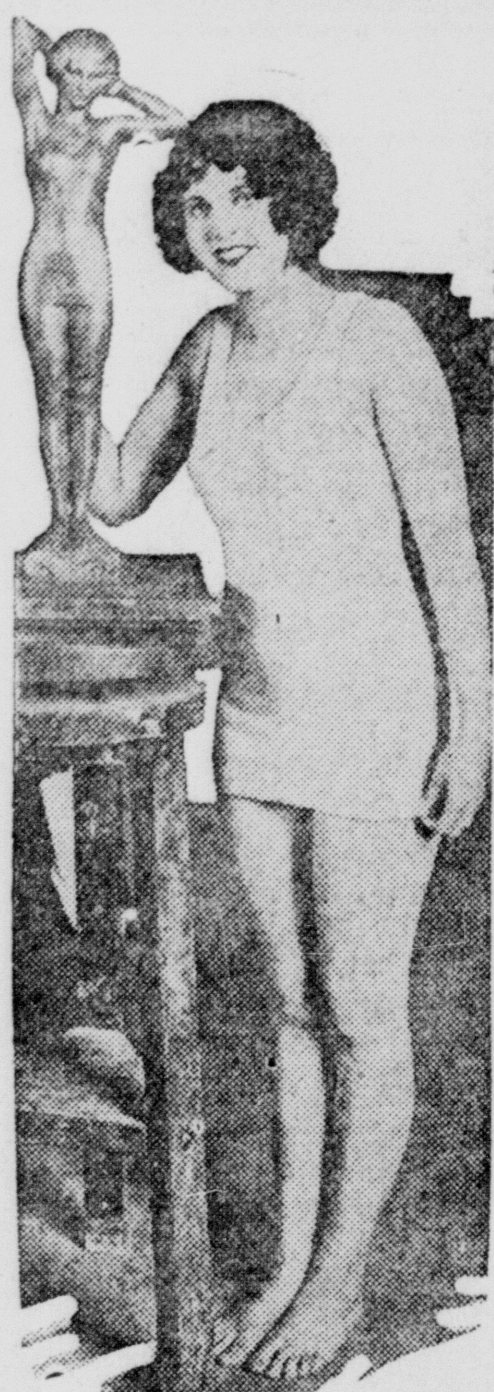

Bridge Club Meeting Is Enjoyable Affair

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Fred Krauth was hostess to the members of the Thursday Night Bridge Club at her home in Wayne avenue last evening.

Her home was appropriately decorated for the occasion in Halloween colors, and the guests were greeted by a black and yellow clown in charge of the door.

After an evening spent in bridge, lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Betty Nickum Hostess At Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Miss Betty Nickum was hostess to a number of her social friends at a Halloween party at her home last evening.

After an evening spent in stunts and games, delicious refreshments were served by her mother, Mrs. L. R. Nickum, after which the guests departed tired but happy.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—About 200 members and guests of the Ellwood City Country Club gathered last night at the clubhouse to enjoy a Halloween masquerade dance.

The clubhouse was decorated in appropriate Halloween colors that formed an effective setting for the grotesque and bizarre costumes of the dancers. Youth and old age, white, yellow and black of every land, seemed represented among the guests. Dancing was enjoyed until one o'clock.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Messrs. Carl Hayes and J. Parrillo and Mrs. Carl Hayes and Miss Sue Cox. The men represented an Irishman and an Indian chief and the ladies a costume of the early eighties and a Spanish dancer.

The dance was pronounced one of the most successful social events of the Country Club calendar.

Pattison Granted Another Patent

Under a Washington date line to the Union-Sun and Journal, Lockport, N. Y., dispatch says: "Headlights for automobile bumpers is the idea on which Albert W. Pattison, of Lockport, (now of New Castle) has just received a patent from the U. S. patent office."

"In Mr. Pattison's combined bumper and headlight, the lamp structure is placed between vertically spaced, flat impact bars and arranged to throw an even light on the road ahead of the auto."

"His application for a patent was filed on October 9, 1925, and in granting the patent, the patent office recognized five new patentable features."

The Sunshine Kensington club will meet Monday evening, October 21 with Mrs. Cora Duffin of Moody avenue.

EX-FOLLIES GIRL SEEKS FORTUNE

Declaring herself the widow of the late Alphonse H. Morgan, formerly Cleveland, Ohio, business man, Mrs. Ann M. Gowans, former Follies dancer, has entered claim for a widow's share in his fortune. She says they were never married by a clergyman. Instead, she repeated the words of the ceremony which a justice of the peace had read to her at a former marriage, and Morgan repeated the words after her, she says. They kept their "marriage" secret because they did not wish to antagonize her husband's family, she asserts. Mrs. Gowans is above, and, inset, her "best friend," Miss Audrey Clapp, Chicago model, a former Cleveland, winner of a "perfect form" contest there, who testified in Mrs. Gowans' behalf at the opening of the case in probate court.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

To Republicans of Lawrence County

The recent primary election resulted in the selection of what might be styled a well-balanced ticket.

There often occurs in primary elections bitter factional struggles within the party, in which a particular group is successful in nominating its candidates. This condition prevailed in many counties of the state in the recent primary election, but in Lawrence County, the ticket nominated represents no particular group or shade of thought in the party, or any particular section of the County or City.

The Primary Election Law was a reform measure intended to give freedom of choice in the selection of party candidates, and in the recent primary. It has resulted, both in County and City, in the selection of a well-balanced Republican ticket. It rarely occurs that we are successful in having all our favorites nominated, but in the recent primary, most voters were successful in having one or more candidates nominated in whom they were especially interested.

It is a healthy condition in the party when the ticket nominated is not wholly representative of a particular group or faction of the party, or of a section of the County or district.

In view of this result in the Republican Primary, no more opportune time has appeared for the Republicans of the County and City to get together and encourage and promote party unity and harmony than is presented in the personnel of the Republican ticket recently nominated. This is a situation that should be taken advantage of by every voter who has the welfare of the Republican party at heart, and in view of the near approach of the Presidential and Congressional elections it is important that the party maintain a solid front against the efforts of Democratic leaders to create dissension.

ELECT DIRECTORS AT FIELD CLUB

Long, Matthews, Dickey And Dr. Cooper Named To Directorate Of Club

Approximately 100 members of the New Castle Field Club were present Friday evening when the annual meeting of the club was held and four directors elected.

The directors named Friday night are George S. Long, J. B. Matthews and Dr. J. R. Cooper for three years, and Thomas W. Dickey for one year. A meeting of the directorate will be held shortly to name the officers of the club.

The meeting was presided over by the president, George F. Winter. The financial statement of the club was read and a general discussion held. It is probable that no annual banquet will be held this year as it is planned to close the club house about November 15.

Dr. Green Will Be Speaker At Red Cross Meeting

Red Cross Get Together Will Be Monday Evening At The Castleton

Monday evening, October 31, the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross, will have a get together dinner and meeting at the Castleton. The dinner is at 6 o'clock.

Dr. Thomas E. Green of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker at this dinner and get together. He is director of Speaking Service of the American National Red Cross. At noon on Monday Dr. Green will be a guest at the Rotary club luncheon.

Dr. Green has for 20 years occupied a unique place in American public life. While holding no outstanding public position, probably no single man has had a wider hearing or exerted greater influence than he. In every state he has spoken before civic clubs, universities, national political gatherings, scientific and patriotic societies and conventions. He is an orator of unusual force and logic.

BEAUTY CONTESTS ANNOY HER

If You Can't Pay Your Bills?

A promise to pay must be kept or you suffer—the merchant loses confidence in you.

Character is built by keeping one's promises. Good character is the greatest asset one can possess—it is the basis of all credit.

When something happens and you cannot pay according to the terms of the purchase, what do you do?

If you can't pay, the proper and important thing is to frankly explain matters to the merchant or his credit manager.

Conditions beyond one's control might prevent a promise being kept—but, if you don't tell the merchant, he will assume you are not trustworthy.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The "Alabama" Claims

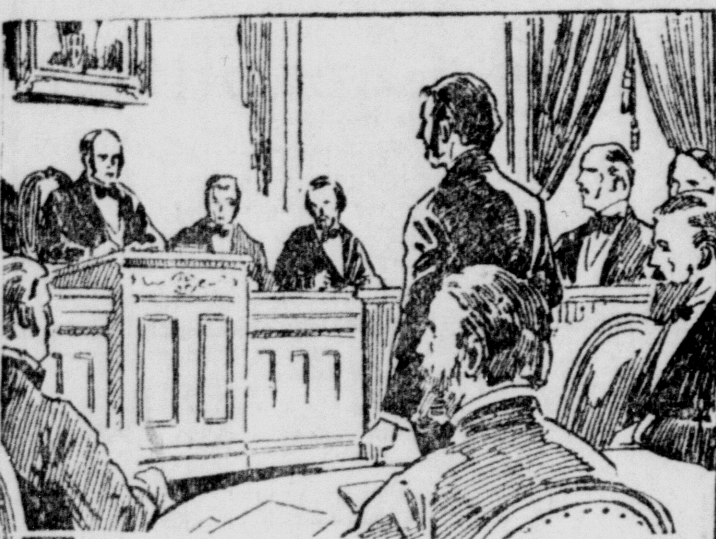

Registered U. S. Patent Office

DURING THE CIVIL WAR A NUMBER OF CRUISERS HAD BEEN BUILT IN ENGLAND FOR THE CONFEDERACY. THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT PERMITTED SOME OF THESE TO GO TO SEA, IN SPITE OF THE PROTESTS OF THE AMERICAN MINISTER TO ENGLAND. THE CONFEDERATE CRUISERS THAT SAILED FROM ENGLISH PORTS DESTROYED UNION MERCHANT VESSELS AND CARGOES WORTH MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

AFTER THE WAR, THE UNITED STATES DEMANDED THAT ENGLAND PAY NOT ONLY FOR THE DIRECT DAMAGE CAUSED BY THESE SEA-RAIDERS BUT ALSO FOR THE INDIRECT HARM THEY HAD DONE IN PROLONGING THE STRUGGLE. THE MOST FAMOUS OF THESE SHIPS WAS THE "ALABAMA", AND ALL THE CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES WERE LUMPED TOGETHER AND CALLED THE "ALABAMA" CLAIMS.

ACCORDING TO THE TERMS OF THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON (CONCLUDED MAY, 1871), THE QUESTION WAS SUBMITTED TO ARBITRATION. THE CASE WAS TRIED BEFORE A TRIBUNAL WHICH MET IN GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, IN DECEMBER, 1871, AND CONSISTED OF FIVE MEMBERS REPRESENTING THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN, SWITZERLAND, ITALY AND BRAZIL.

AFTER A LENGTHY DISCUSSION, THE TRIBUNAL RENDERED ITS DECISION (SEPT., 1872). IT REJECTED THE CLAIM FOR INDIRECT DAMAGES, BUT DECLARED THAT ENGLAND HAD VIOLATED HER NEUTRALITY AND MUST PAY THE UNITED STATES $15,500,000 IN SETTLEMENT OF DIRECT DAMAGE CLAIMS.

BESSEMER VANQUISHES UNION, 6 TO 0

Standish Scores In Fourth Period

Failure To Dent Line, Fumbles And Penalties Hurt Union

LAST PERIOD AIR ATTACK SPECTACULAR

By ED FRITZ
Bessemer furthered their chances of capturing the class B title of Lawrence county Friday afternoon by defeating Union high 6-0 at Scotland. Bessemer scored after getting the ball on a fumble and a march down the field that was climaxed when Standish carried it over the line for a touchdown. Bessemer's attempt for the extra point failed.

Inability of Union to penetrate Bessemer's line or to skirt the ends for good gains, excepting at infrequent periods, fumbles and penalties in the third period lost for Union high but in the last part of the fourth period they opened an aerial attack that would probably have resulted in a touchdown had their been more time to play.

It was a fumble that, in a measure, paved the way for Bessemer's victory, the ball being fumbled on the first play in the fourth period, Keeler dropping the pigskin and Stanley falling on it. Grist worked a "spinner," made 15 yards, which added to a forward pass. Snyder to Stanley, good for 20 yards, put the ball on Union's 15-yard line.

Standish, the battering Bessemer fullback, was called upon and made several gains through right tackle and then a break, a penalty for off-side play, cost Union five yards. The line plays and offside penalty put the ball on Union's two-yard line and Standish took it over but an attempt to forward pass for the extra point failed.

Funkhouser Catches Pass.
Flashing with determination to even the score after the kick-off Union fought desperately but lost five yards on a fumble. Keeler threw a pass and interference netted a first down. Horchler skirted left end Keeler threw another beautiful pass to Funkhouser, who made 15 yards and put the ball on their own 39-yard line.

With only a few minutes to play a line plunge by Keeler and a forward pass to Horchler made eight yards and Chill plunged through the line for a first down. On the third down Horchler tossed a pass to Funkhouser, who put the ball on Bessemer's 45-yard line.

Union fought desperate and though they were not making any long sensational gains they were forging ahead slowly but surely but finally lost the ball on Bessemer's 33-yard line. Snyder went through the line for four yards then kicked to Carr on Union's 40-yard line. He ran the ball back to the 50-yard line and after Keeler had thrown a pass to Funkhouser the game ended with the ball in Bessemer's territory.

When the game started it appeared as though Keeler and Horchler would run wild as Keeler ripped around left end for 20 yards and Horchler skirted Bessemer's right end for a 10-yard gain. They abandoned the end runs to try through the line and when a forward pass was thrown Mack leaped into the air and intercepted the ball, running it to the center of the field.

Chill Intercepts Pass.
A spectacular touch was added to the first quarter when Chill caught Grist's forward pass on Union's 48-yard line but Shiek fumbled and was forced to punt to Snyder on Bessemer's 30-yard marker. Standish plunged through the right side of the field.

Romeo Pacelli Loses Six Round Decision To Sam Lupica

line for first down, Bessemer chalking up another first down in two successive plays by Grist and Standish. Bessemer marched up the field and when the ball was on the 15-yard line Serjick dropped back to try for a field goal but Funkhouser broke thru Bessemer's line and blocked the attempt and Union got the ball but Shiek's kick was poor and Snyder returned the ball to Union's 10-yard line when the first quarter ended. It was a perilous situation for Bessemer which left their goal menaced. Bessemer called upon Snyder and Standish who made first down with line plays and the ball was on Union's nine-yard line. Standish picked up a couple of more yards thru right tackle and fortunately for Union, Bessemer was penalized for off-side play and their chance to score in the second quarter failed when Funkhouser caught a forward pass thrown by Grist and Shiek kicked out of danger. The half ended with the ball in Union's possession on their own 43-yard line.

In the third quarter Serjick kicked to Union's 20-yard line and Keeler ran it back 10 yards but Union was penalized 25 yards. Shiek kicked to the 25-yard line where Standish was dropped like a rock. Bessemer lost the ball on downs and Keeler picked up 15 yards around right end, putting the ball on his own 38-yard line.

Another break against Union came after Horchler was stopped dead at right end and the referee penalized Union 25 yards, which made 50 yards in the third period so far played. This left the ball on the 13-yard line and to make things more menacing Union fumbled and recovered the ball but lost ground.

Shiek kicked and Snyder of Bessemer fumbled, but another Bessemer player recovered the fumble and ran the ball through a string of Union players to Union's 26-yard line. Snyder hurled a pass toward Stanley but it failed and Union won the ball on their own 20-yard line but was forced to kick.

With the ball on Union's 30-yard line kicks were interchanged and Union finally tried to gain through the line and end runs, running the ball from their 35-yard line to the 43 but here was again forced to kick to Bessemer's 20-yard line. Bessemer didn't take any chances as Union had shown they were very dangerous and Snyder kicked to Rech, who was downed on Bessemer's 49-yard line and when the fourth period opened Keeler fumbled, Stanley recovered on the 50-yard line and Bessemer went down the field for their six points.

Outstanding for Bessemer was Standish, who battered the line and forward passes from Grist to Stanley. Bessemer's line held strong in most attempts to batter it down while Shiek, Horchler, Carr, Keeler and Funkhouser played a splendid game for Union. Lineup:

FAMOUS QUARTER-BACKS

BENNY FRIEDMAN, MICHIGAN'S GREAT PASSING AND KICKING PILOT OF '25 AND '26

HARRY STUHDREHER, ONE OF THE FAMOUS "FOUR HORSEMEN"

BENNY BOYNTON, OF WILLIAMS COLLEGE, WHO WOULD HAVE BEEN KNOWN FROM COAST TO COAST IF HE HAD GONE TO A LARGER AND MORE PROMINENT SCHOOL.

GRANGE PLAYED QUARTERBACK IN 1925

THERE'S MY CHOICE FOR ALL-AMERICAN QUARTERBACK

Don't be alarmed, ladies and gentlemen—the writer does not claim that Eckersall, Friedman, Buell, Grange, Boynton, and Stuhldreher were the greatest quarter-backs of all time. Friends and admirers of Walter Steffen, Willis Richardson, Pooley Hubert, Vin Stevenson, Charley Daly, Indian Johnson, Bo McMillin, Elroy Huntington, Charley Erb, and other great ball-carriers and field-generals need not be offended. A drawing the width and depth of this whole page could not do justice to the many great quarter-backs in gridiron history. Hannibals and Napoleons of football, who had brains as well as brawn, and generalship as well as "guts," and the ability to size up the situation in a jiffy and call the right play at the right time, even though half-numb from making tackles, leading interference, and carrying the ball.

I have given Benny Boynton of Williams college a prominent position in this cartoon because I always thought that his fame would have been nation-wide if he had gone to Yale, Harvard, Michigan, or some such large institution. But even a weak team at a minor college, as the football fame goes, couldn't hide Benny Boynton's great ability. He had everything—that is, everything but publicity—and no one who has ever seen him in action, sans headguard, often with sleeves rolled up to his elbows, carrying the ball in both hands before him like a Rugby player, will ever forget his flaming genius. His 110-yard run to a touchdown in 1920 against Hamilton is merely one of the records he left.

Walter Eckersall's all-around ability is too well known to need further comment. He has been rightfully called "the Prince of Quarter-backs," and nearly every critic's all-time all-American team has his name at the pilot's post. His successor, Walter Steffen, now a judge and coach at Carnegie Tech, was nearly his equal, while nervy little Vin Stevenson, the colorful Penn quarter-back with the biting tongue, deserves high rating.

One man not yet mentioned here so far who should not be overlooked is George Pfann of Cornell, a wonderful ball-carrier, and all-American quarter-back in 1923, but George did not have the chess brain that characterized men like Eckie and Stuhldreher and Buell. He was stronger perhaps, but slower-witted.

Because, although losing to Notre Dame this year, he has again one of the strongest teams in the country.

Because he starred on the Navy eleven in 1918 and started his coaching career there as an assistant in 1919 before accepting a position as coach at Indiana University.

Choice Grid Games On Tap For Today

Western Pennsylvania Teams Potential "Eastern Champions", Have Easy Programs

Pitt To Clash With Allegheny; Tech-West Virginia Game Looms Interesting

By REGIS CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Although western Pennsylvania's potential "eastern champions", Pitt and Wash. Jeff, were participating today in alleged "set-up" games, nevertheless, other colleges in the state met in games that appealed to the football attention.

West Point and Annapolis, ever and anon two of the most colorful teams in the land, meet Pennsylvania teams in important struggles.

These are today's games with football appeal for Pennsylvania fans in particular: Carnegie Tech-West Virginia, Penn State-Lafayette, Bucknell-Army and Navy-Penn.

A large portion of interest in Pittsburgh was in the melee at Morgantown, West Virginia, where Carnegie Tech traveled to play football with West Virginia University.

Earlier in this season West Virginia was scratched 40-0 or thereabouts by the claws of Pitt's Panther; the following week the Mountaineers pulled a big surprise or something and tied mighty Lafayette. Last week Georgetown walloped West Virginia, 25-0; so therefore Tech is in for a tie game, a defeat or a victory. Many think that the Scotch is just a wee bit too strong for the West Virginians, while others think the Morgantown collegians will arise in mountainous wrath and determination and smote down the Tartan.

Lafayette-Penn State
The football jungle should reverberate with fearsome growlings and roarings when the Leopards of Lafayette engages the Nittany Lion at Penn State. Although each team has suffered one defeat this season, they are still "expected" as two of the East's strongest. Penn State, showing rapid development the past three weeks, is a bit of a favorite.

The unbeaten but tied Bucknell team meets the Army at West Point, N. Y., and if they scalp the Cadets the boys from Lewisburg, Pa., will have built themselves a brilliant argument for recognition as part of this year's football elite of the East. Some skeptics have pondered how Bucknell could have defeated the Penn State, which kayoed Penn and Syracuse, but Bucknell backers believe their eleven deserves a front-line ranking and that today will prove it.

The other undefeated but tied team, Geneva, is expected to be still unbeaten tonight following the game at Beaver Falls, Pa., with Bethany College of Bethany, West Virginia.

An authentic rumor has been heard that the Panther will dine sumptuously on Allegheny meat this afternoon, while Wash-Jeff will gobble a meal of Thiel victuals. Some say that Thiel and Allegheny have not a chance, while others admit the truth of the statement. It will be advisable for Pitt and W. & J. to eat and be happy today, for next Saturday one of them may die of starvation when the two argue with each other for the bacon in what promises to be a football epic.

Navy Favored
This seems to be a Philadelphia-Navy week. Rear Admiral T. P. Mahan, in command of Philadelphia navy yard, attacked the Navy Department policies and was "set down". This afternoon in Franklin Field dear old Penn. also of Philadelphia,

Carl Cavelli Loses Fight At Tampa

Word has been received in this city that Carl Cavelli, former New Castle boy, and now located at Tampa, Fla., had fought and lost a close decision fight with "Baby" Reyes, bantam-weight champion of the South, last Friday night.

Cavelli claims that the fight was lost on account of weight, that Reyes weighed 120 and that he tipped the scales at 116 pounds. It was a main go fight, according to the letter.

will fire a football broadside at the Navy, and indications see that the Quakers will be scuttled.

An interesting, rather evenly matched fracas is in prospect at New Wilmington, Pa., where Duquesne meets Westminster. The United Presbyterians are favored, chiefly because they have every man in good condition and have not played for a fortnight, while the Dukes have several casualties reported.

Grove City College is prepared for a battle royal with Adrian College of Michigan, of whom not much is known.

The sad case of Waynesburg matching football strength with Georgetown is the spectacle at Washington, D. C. Weeping and wailing and a smashing defeat is the dreary prospect for Yellow Jackets from Pennsylvania.

Murder Suspect Without

CLAIMS BROTHER IS GUILTY ONE

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 29.—Joseph Moity, whose wife and sister-in-law were found decapitated and their bodies dismembered and stuffed into two trunks, was today calmly resting in the "Spanish Inquisition" cell of the third precinct police station in a wing which was originally a Spanish prison.

Although subjected to a grueling "third degree" by police he sat calm and unemotional as officers dangled the head of his wife and sister-in-law before his face, or thrust an arm or limb at him for identification. He showed less emotion over the scene than some of the police officers who took part in it.

Moity was taken from his cell in the police station to the morgue where the two dismembered bodies lay. Police examined and cross-examined for three hours in an effort to make him break down and confess. He was confined today in a dungeon of the old Spanish prison here, a windowless room six-feet square with its only opening a round hole in the door, large enough to admit a man's arm. Police indicated that Moity would remain in the dungeon until they made certain no confession would be made.

Throughout the grilling, Moity declared insistently that he had no part in the murder of his wife and brother's wife, saying that he believed they had been murdered by his brother, Henry, who is missing. He maintained his alibi of being with his sister, Mrs. Alcee Lecanu on Thursday night, when the crime is alleged to have taken place.

The Castleton Coffee Shop To Open On Monday

Announcement is made this morning at The Castleton that the Coffee Shop will open at 6:30 Monday morning, and remain open until midnight. A staff of ten waitresses, all local girls, will be charge of Miss Constance Russell, and will be attired in blue and tan uniforms, to harmonize with the decorations of the shop. "The food served in the Coffee Shop will be of the best," states John L. Black, manager of The Castleton. "Both a la carte and regular style breakfasts, luncheons and dinners will be served, as well as the usual counter service. Service will be in line with the high standard set by the American Hotels Corporation." The main dining room of The Castleton will also open Monday for regular service. This Sunday the dining room will be open from noon until eight o'clock in the evening.

Eight Hour Shifts For Police Officers

Mayor And Chief Work Out Plan
To Put Force On Eight Hour Days Effective
November 1

It is practically assured that the eight hour workday for the police officers of this city will go into effect on Tuesday, November 1.

A system has been worked out by Chief of Police Henry Dysart and Mayor William H. Dunlap by which this has been made possible in spite of the small number of men on the force for a three turn workday.

The first turn work from 3 a. m. to 4 p. m., the second turn from 4 p. m. to 12 midnight and the third turn from 12 midnight to 8 a. m. There will be approximately 12 officers on duty on each turn. The day turn force will really be augmented by the five traffic officers, who will be on duty from 8:45 a. m. to 5:45 p. m., a nine hour turn. The traffic officers will however make up for this extra time, by having Sundays off duty.

Chief of Police Dysart will be in charge of the first turn, while Lieutenant U. G. Harper will be in charge part time during each of the following two turns.

While it has not been officially announced, it is understood that the new system will probably necessitate the officers losing their two days a month off duty and also eliminate dinner hours.

It took a long time for Welker Cochran to advance ahead of Willie Hoppe in the billiard game. For years Cochran played in the shadow of the once invincible Willie's brightness. He was always a good player, but a little erratic.

But times have changed. Cochran's game steadied and he caught up to Hoppe and for the present, at least, has passed him. He won the 18.2 balkline championship from Jake Schaefer in the final match of the international tournament at Washington, D. C., last March. He continued his brilliant work though getting off to a poor start, against Eric Hagelacher recently in Chicago. Entering the final block against Hagelacher, he was trailing 1,000 to 708, but suddenly found himself and took the lead with a sensational run of 407 and won out in the end. This match was played in three blocks of 500 points each. When Cochran meets Schaefer in December in another defense of his title, the match will be played in five blocks of 300 points each in order to eliminate long drawn-out blocks, as was the case in the Cochran-Hagelacher duel.

His match with Schaefer should be a corker, as both are able, daring and sensational players. They have been rivals for a long time and the feeling between them is none too friendly. Cochran established a new record in the 18.1 billiards at Boston on October 19 by making a run of 251, beating the previous record run of 241 hung up by Jake Schaefer in 1926.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Many of the 83,000 persons who saw the annual battle between Ohio State and Michigan, which opened Michigan's marvelous stadium, and who also saw the State-Northwestern game the week preceding, are trying to figure out why the team from Ohio finds itself trounced repeatedly.

The team boasts a goodly number of good football players—Grim, Eby, Marek, Rakowski, Huston, a sophomore, and others have natural football ability. What is more in most of its games the team started out like a winning combination, only to swing into a somewhat demoralized outfit, game but unsteady, later in the game.

Against Michigan, for instance, State took the aggressive at the opening of the game and after an exchange of punts started what seemed to be a march that couldn't be halted. The team suddenly lined up over the line and executed a short pass over the line before State realized what had happened. Gilbert, Michigan backfield star, received the pass from Oosterbaan and pranced nine yards unhampered to the goal line.

But what was more apparent during the game was the fact that the State eleven had no adequate defense for the much discussed Oosterbaan to Gilbert forward passing combination.

Since football crept into the sport pages last August teams had been

The fumble, however, and the resistance, seemed to baffle the State team. A hurried try for a field goal followed and the ball bounded harmlessly to the ground just over the line.

In the second quarter Michigan slipped over a touchdown on a play that shouldn't have been pulled on a properly coached college team. Michigan came out of a huddle after one down, ran through the play and was downed without a gain near the sideline. Then, without going into a huddle or calling signals the Michigan team suddenly lined up over the ball and executed a short pass over the line before State realized what had happened.

Gilbert, Michigan backfield star, received the pass from Oosterbaan and pranced nine yards unhampered to the goal line.

But what was more apparent during the game was the fact that the State eleven had no adequate defense for the much discussed Oosterbaan to Gilbert forward passing combination.

Since football crept into the sport pages last August teams had been

Bond Issue To Be Discussed Monday In Slippery Rock

Written as to how Benny Oosterbaan, on the receiving end of the old Friedman to Oosterbaan team, would try his hand at hurling passes this year and that Gilbert would fill his shoes on the receiving end. Michigan scored all three touchdowns, Oosterbaan to Gilbert.

Resident of Slippery Rock township will hold a meeting in Princeton Presbyterian church on Monday evening to discuss the proposed $33,000 bond issue for a consolidated school, according to County Superintendent John C. Sylling. A meeting was held at Rose Point this week at which the project was discussed. It was attended by County Superintendent Sylling and Assistant Ball, who report that strong sentiment was expressed in favor of consolidation. No building if it is erected. It is proposed to erect it where it can be most conveniently reached from all sections of the township.

JUSTICE STRIKES SWIFTLY

These three young bandits, left to right, Frank Smiddy, Joe Drum and Sherman Smiddy, are prepared to testify that justice is swift at Murphysboro, Ill. Less than 28 hours after they had held up a bank at Grand Tower, Ill., escaping with $1,600, they had been captured, indicted, had entered pleas of guilty, and had been sentenced to prison for from one year to life. They led officers a chase over four southern Illinois counties before they were captured.

On the Gridiron-On the Road They All Admire the All-American

Target of every eye. Center of all attraction. Admired for color, confidence and poise. In football—the All-American rules the field.

And on the road—it's exactly the same! Watch an Oakland sweeping past—and you'll know why this looser, lower, more beautiful Six is called the All-American.

Speed—drive—alertness—control. The power of the driving wind. A flashing change of pace. Something that lifts it out of the mob—something vitally fresh and different—something that all America instinctively admires.

The might of a 212-Inch engine. The grace and charm of bodies by Fisher. The balance that comes from inspired engineering—the stamina of staunch construction—all combined in a single car.

In the All-American Six—at its All-American price! It's giving America a new motoring thrill. Drive it yourself—and see!

Unknown Assailant Knocks Down Woman

It was reported to the police last night, that some unknown man had struck and knocked down a woman at Division street and High street, about 10:45 o'clock. Officers Horner, Dukes and Thompson answered the call and found that there had been a woman attacked in that manner, while enroute to her home on Division street. She was unable to give a description of her assailant and the officers were unable to locate him.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS

International News Service Financial Editor NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The week-end business and financial reports were not such as to stimulate very much speculative buying of either the industrial or the railroad stocks, and prices moved through a narrow margin at the beginning of trading today. Feeble rallies took place in the first hour in a few of the market favorites, including General Motors and U. S. Steel, but numerous specialties, Oils, Coppers and other industrials declined to a lower range of prices.

The promised increase in steel and automobile buying showed little evidence of having materialized, and fresh weakness appeared in the steel shares in the second hour. Professional selling of U. S. Steel common made itself felt as soon as it became known that there were few if any supporting orders for the stock around 131, the opening price. The stock broke to below 129, whereas independent steel stocks like Crucible and Youngstown held at fractional gains.

The pool stocks in which distribution is now being carried out suffered heavy shrinkage, and high-priced specialties in the insurance stocks moved downward sensationally. Russia insurance, which touched a peak price of 154 yesterday, dropped back to 135 for a 18 point decline, signaling the end of expensive short covering.

Considerable interest was displayed in the financial district in reports that an American railroad, which has been at the cross purposes in working out mergers and combinations of railroad properties, held a conference meeting in New York with a view to closer cooperation in the future. This conference may be more successful in adjusting the differences of rival transportation heads than anything yet undertaken.

For that reason the railroad stocks displayed a firmer tendency than the industrials, and the volume of selling at the low prices was comparatively smaller. The Erie declined about 2 points and New York Central lost a point.

Houston Oil, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Colorado fuel and other of the so-called pool specialties showed heavy speculative selling during the ease with which they were pushed downward to the lower levels.

Oil lost 3 points and losses of 1 to 2½ points were sustained by a long list of the active specialties, which backed in the light of the strong bullish movement of the summer months.

The Bears went on a rampage in the final period, and directed a savage attack on Houston Oil and other of the pool specialties. Houston dropped back to 133, a new loss of 1½ points, while Colorado fuel and iron lost 6 points; Dupont declined 9 to 27½, United States Steel declined 12½, down 2, Union Carbide 4. General Motors held strongly around 125½, and moderate rallies were brought about by aggressive speculative buying just before the close.

Judge James Inghram, 85, Succumbs To Illness In Waynesburg

(International News Service)

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Judge James Inghram, 85 former president judge of the Greene county courts died here shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. His health had been failing for several months, and in the last three weeks, he had been in a serious condition.

Judge Inghram was born in Waynesburg, September 12, 1842. He was a son of Dr. Arthur Inghram, one of Waynesburg's early physicians. He was graduated from Waynesburg college in 1859. He was the oldest graduate of the school. He taught school a few terms, but soon began studying law. He was admitted to the bar here when 21 years old.

Girl Is Injured, Hit By Machine; Driver Detained

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—P. E. Seybold of Indiana, a traveling salesman for a Pittsburgh concern, was held in the county jail here on a liquor charge today, pending the result of injuries received by Ruth Rupert, six, of Vandergrift, struck by Seybold's car.

Three pints of gin were found in Seybold's car, according to police, although an examination by Dr. J. N. Lear showed he had not been drinking. Eye-witnesses, including Constable Joseph Levandoski, who arrested Seybold, stated the accident was unavoidable.

The injured girl is in a hospital in a serious condition.

Italian Liner Drifts In Fog

One Propeller Gone, Italian Liner Reported Drifting Helpless In Dense Fog

(International News Service) BOSTON, Oct. 29.—With one propeller gone the Italian liner Labor from Genoa was reported by wireless early today drifting helplessly in a heavy fog off the lower end of Cape Cod.

Her calls for aid brought a coast guard cutter to her side 115 miles south of the Nantuxet light ship. The Labor carried a crew of 30 men and was in danger of running onto the treacherous shoals off the cape. She will be towed into port by coast guardsmen.

Gasoline Station Watchman Wounded In Daring Holdup

(International News Service) CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 29.—Joseph O. Clare, 54, night manager, was shot and probably fatally wounded by a bandit who held up a Gulf Refining company filling station here today.

The bandit entered as Clare was depositing the night's receipts in a safe, and commanded him to raise his hands, which Clare did. Then without further warning the bandit fired, the bullet piercing Clare's breast near the heart.

Scooping up an undetermined amount of cash the bandit fled.

Compensation Appeal Is Denied By Board

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG Oct. 29.—The Workmen's Compensation Board has dismissed an appeal by Mrs. Rosie Vitale of 105 South Jefferson street, New Castle against the Vitale Fireworks Manufacturing company, New Castle. Mrs. Vitale's husband, Joseph Vitale was employed as a salesman for the company and on June 16, 1926, was injured in Youngstown, O., while attending a fireworks demonstration.

He died the following day as a result of his injuries. The referee dismissed the claim for compensation because the accident was in Ohio. The board in its latest action has affirmed the referee's stand.

Pennsylvania Home Of Many Apple Varieties

Eleven Million Bushels Of Apples Produced Annually In State

Many New Varieties Of Apples Were Originated In Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania, now ranking as one of the great apple producing sections of the world, has always played an important part in the history of the apple in America, says the department of agriculture at Harrisburg.

From the time of William Penn, when apple seeds were brought from Europe to plant about the newly built log cabins in this commonwealth until the present day, when almost 11,000,000 bushels of apples are produced annually, the Keystone state has contributed greatly to the development of this fruit.

Many new and greatly improved varieties originated in this state, and much of the stock from which new kinds were produced in New York and other neighboring states, came from Pennsylvania.

The Smokehouse and the York Imperial are two popular varieties of Pennsylvania fruit. The Smokehouse originated in Lampeter township, Lancaster county, and secured its name from a smokehouse that stood near the first tree. The York Imperial was propagated in York county, just south of the city of York. Today a large stone monument, marking the orchard in which the first fruit was produced, stands beside the Susquehanna Trail.

The Smith Cider and Fallwater are two lesser known varieties which Pennsylvania can claim; both originated in Bucks county. Others including the Belmont, Deacon Jones and Doctor, also came originally from the southeastern part of this state.

These improved apples were developed by years and years of patient effort on the part of enthusiasts who had grown tired of old kinds. The old varieties had been planted principally to produce apples for cider, since the chief purpose of fruit in the early days was to supply cider for log-rollings, husking bees and social gatherings. Quantity rather than quality was wanted. Later, the demand for fresh fruit increased, and the little sour apples decreased in popularity. By grafting it was found possible to perpetuate the fruit of desirable trees and after years of this work the new varieties made their appearance.

Today, with the development of large commercial orchards and the adoption of the best scientific methods, this fruit has attained a quality never dreamed of a century ago.

Pennsylvania orchardists are now in the midst of harvesting and marketing thousands of barrels of these improved apples for the consumers in this state, as well as in other parts of the eastern United States and foreign countries.

So, in spite of the fact that the old home orchards are passing to the brush pile, it is still possible to do what our grandparents secured so much enjoyment from—sit around the fireplace every night before going to bed and enjoy a ripe, juicy apple.

Mallow Elected By Hotel Men As New President

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Hober R. Mallow of Wilkes-Barre was elected president of the Pennsylvania State Hotel Men's association which closed its 24th annual convention here today. The association named E. D. Casey, Scranton; E. E. Heimbach, Allentown, and M. S. Butterworth, Harrisburg, vice presidents.

If an artist painted his figure's lips as some of the girls paint them, the critics would laugh at him too.

ABE MARTIN On Th' Human Stomach

UNCLE AL MOOTS, WHO DISTINGUISHED HIMSELF IN OUR WAR WITH MEXICO

"Th' Human Stomach an' It's Care" wuz th' title o' th' paper read by Dr. Mopps before th' Skunk Ridge Literary Club, Wednesday afternoon. "Too much attention can't be showered on th' stomach. This great human machine will even stand pamperin' an' next t' a dog, I know o' nothin' that so quickly responds t' kindness like th' human stomach. An' I might add that I know o' nothin' so patient, nuthin' so hard t' completely discourage as th' human stomach. But th' stomach, like th' water buffalo, kin only combat brutal an' inhuman treatment so long. History is overrun with notable contributors t' th' world's knowledge an' betterment who lived t' great age, men who looked after their stomachs, men who were alert an' useful up t' as high as 110. Cato learned Greek at 80, an' Goethe wrote Faust long after he wuz 70. Sophocles an' Teophrastus sold stuff t' newspapers when they wuz borderin' on 100, an' they lived on ground corn, water an' dried gazelle. Mrs. Lefe Bud's gran'paw never learned t' swim on his back till he wuz eighty-nine. There never wuz a time like th' present when folks seem as anxious t' hold on t' life. Th' nations cosmetics, an' face liftin' bill will reach billions this year, but what are we doin' fer our stomachs? Nothin' an' buyin' girdles, an' girdles press agin th' pipes that empty into th' liver. Niles Turner, wuz over a hundred, still helps out at th' Monarch 5 & 10 durin' th' holiday an' June weddin' rushes. History abounds in characters that didn't git t' goin' good till they wuz around a hundred. Like Lark's father wuz in Indian politics all his days, but he watched his diet, an' wuz drowned at th' age o' 98. People kin age without gittin' ole, an' they kin git ole without agin'.

Uncle Virge Plum drank boiled water an' didn't eat nothin' fried, an' mastered a high wheel Columbia bicycle, which he bought with his ole age pension. Later he opened a roller skatin' rink an' gave exhibitions till he wuz 97. Mrs. Tilford Moots' mother wuz a famous hostess, an' allus had a house full o' people. She prob'ly killed a lot o' people, but she rarely et her own messes, an' fell out of a balloon at 91 an' died seven days later. Chauncey Depew is up an' around ever day, bright an' alert mentally. He's spoken at thousands o' banquets, an' may have nibbled at a quail now an' then, but he kept off o' pie an' dressin's. Take college boys. Fully seventy-two per cent. o' them require from fifteen t' twenty years t' git settled down an' ready fer work after their education. Ther's fifteen t' twenty years chopped off ther lives that they'll have t' make up, an' it'll require th' closest stomach watchin' t' make th' grade. Gran'maw Pash has had despesia all her life an' can't et nothin' an' she'll be 100 th' next Democratic Gov'nor of Indiana. That tells th' tale. Pretty knees, loud clothes, single chins, colorful socks an' neckties, nifty hats, youthful gait, interest in current events, an' plannin' ahead, wont keep us in th' game. Eternal stomach watchin' is th' price o' graceful ole age.

What's What in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Just how big a row there was over what General Summerall said, in that speech of his, out west, is a thing we may never know.

Or maybe we shan't know it until years and years and years hence, when somebody gets old and garrulous, and leaks. Or perhaps future historians will dig the real yarn out of a lot of ancient archives, in 2027 or thereabouts.

The painful part of it is that the folks who finally get the low-down on it all, if that ever does happen, will be a later generation, which won't care a red cent's worth either way.

It would be a mighty interesting bit o' gossip right now.

President Coolidge was hot under the collar when he read that Summerall had said American soldiers' barracks are worse today than the quarters the Germans kept their prisoners in during the war.

We can set that down as a fact. Otherwise the general wouldn't have been summoned, clear from the Pacific coast, back to Washington, at such a clip that his military aide, an active young man—couldn't keep up with him.

Summerall hadn't said anything else worthy of remark, so the natural conclusion is that that was it.

Let's assume that the general had talked with the president several times concerning the inadequate housing of American troops—and that the president had said yes, he knew, but he had an economy program to think about, too—and that the general had gone away, somewhat disgruntled and made that speech, thereby sticking the president for an extra six millions on his calculations for the next fiscal year.

And suppose the president had admitted: "Well, that's a horse on me, but possibly I can play a little of the same game with Br'er Summerall."

And then suppose that Summerall, after being permitted to travel all the way to Los Angeles, under the impression that he was enjoying a nice, restful trip, had suddenly been summoned 3,000 miles back again, still chewing a mouthful of food, to discuss a budget problem that he's already fully discussed before—

Why, the incident would have a kind of Coolidge-esque humor about it, wouldn't it?

The president is quite given to these little jokes—that aren't exactly jokes.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur once made a speech—that was out on the Pacific coast, too—that it was rumored the president didn't like. The next thing anybody knew Wilbur was on his way back to Washington—and to say that he was hitting only the high places isn't to exaggerate, for he was journeying by plane.

"Goeh!" cried all the Washington correspondents, coming a-running. "Here's where we see a secretary of the navy canned."

Wilbur arrived on the scene and so did the correspondents.

"Well," inquired the latter, "what's all this about?"

"What, indeed?" said the president. "I'm sure I don't know."

And that was that.

Ditto Major General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff.

Nevertheless, nobody can tell me, and get away with it, that the president doesn't think these things up in advance.

Announcing Our Twenty-Second ANNIVERSARY SALE

Starts Tuesday, November 1st

The twenty-second milestone in the history of the New Castle Dry Goods Co. has been reached, and we pause in our march onward to commemorate the event in a fitting manner.

The people of New Castle and Western Pennsylvania have made possible the steady growth of this business from its modest beginning in 1905—in a little building—to its present size, and it is but right that the residents of this vicinity should participate in celebrating our 22nd Anniversary.

Therefore, beginning Tuesday, November 1st, we will start an intensive selling of specially acquired merchandise, as well as goods from our regular stocks—at prices that will leave a lasting impression upon the buying public.

Checker Champion Of Country Is Coming

Veteran checker players of the hot stove league, Lawrence county—those who remember the old days when the players used to cluster in the country store—and other players who are not veterans, will have a chance to match their skill with the best checker talent in the United States Friday, Nov. 4, at eight p. m., in the Y. M. C. A.

In fact, they will have a chance to compete with Newell B. Banks, checker champion of America, who is touring the country preparatory to defending his title against Gonotski, who won the national open checker cup last year. This match will be played at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Y. M. C. A. wishes to get out about 30 or more aspirants who wish to play against the champion.

Before he starts his match play against all the players assembled Banks will give an exhibition of his skill.

Banks is editor of The Checkerist, as well as being author of several checker handbooks.

No admission is to be charged.

There's little relation between the species. The female monkey spansks her young, but never because she lost at bridge.
